DR. PAUL MAGNUS GROSS, Vice-President in the Division of Education and Dean of the University, has brought national and international fame to Duke during a lifetime devoted to building a sound educational program here.

A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the College of the City of New York (1916), Dr. Gross received his M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from Columbia University.

Duke was yet unborn when Dr. Gross came to Trinity College as an assistant professor of chemistry. He became a professor of chemistry and head of the department in 1921 and was elected Vice-President in 1949.

During World War II Dr. Gross was Director of War Research at Duke. Subsequently, he was awarded the President's Medal for Merit for "An invaluable contribution to the war effort of the United States in World War II." In 1949, Dr. Gross became President of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear studies. The same year he was a delegate to the General UNESCO Conference in Paris. He was appointed to the Committee on Science of UNESCO in 1952.

Dr. Gross has combined successfully an educational career with one of service to community and country. The University has benefited from his great name, but infinitely more important, from his brilliant mind and broad perspective.

In deepest gratitude for these and other uncounted contributions to the University, the student body of nineteen hundred and fifty-eight dedicates its CHANTICLEER to Dr. Paul M. Gross.

NEW YEAR, NEW FACES . . .

A new year begins . . . a deluge of confused frosh . . . local cabbies soaking same . . . helpful (?) FAC's . . . optimism . . . placement tests . . . despair . . . Duke-Durham Day in the rain . . . a glimpse of things to come . . . new headgear . . . devilish dinks and beauteous bows . . . greetings from the President . . . social season off to a roaring start: freshman mixers . . . scholarly advice from freshman advisors . . . beautiful schedules planned . . . quiet registration . . . course cards slightly rearranged . . . and new books bought . . . debt . . . brief respite before classes begin.

September 12th . . . another college career begins.

"Your head just won't fit, fella."

New faces in a new land
... Piri and Mickey, our Hungarian students, get acquainted.

East is East and West is West, and sometimes the twain does meet (at freshmen mixers, that is).

At the President's reception, Dean Wilson welcomes two unsuspecting freshmen.

These freshmen are "All Shook 'Up" 'cause studies will soon begin!

Drowning co-eds smile as they see hope for rescue.

Bassett's OTL club holds its first September meeting for new rushers.

Spirits soar as students return to Bailey's.

OLD, FAMILIAR FACES, TOO . . .

Old acquaintances are renewed . . . Hmmm.

Upperclassmen return . . . squeals of welcome on East . . . handshaking and backslapping on West . . . reunion at Bailey's . . . rain . . . new dorm on East and its Howard Johnson's cafeteria . . . later, new fraternity sections on West, complete with patio . . . classes begin . . . classes full on first day . . . freshmen and sophomores on second day . . . freshmen on third day . . . reunion at Bailey's . . . rain . . . bus stop and parking lot overflowing . . . hitchhikers awaiting rides . . . sex appeal wins out . . . coeds make class on time . . . boys catch bus . . . mass exodus to the Eno on week ends . . . wreckers pulling cars from same

. . . rain . . . Dope Shop umbrella sales soar . . . couples "studying" at Hogan's Lake . . . week nights see Patio filled to the rafters . . . bleary-eyed students attend classes . . . professors retaliate . . . hour exams . . . three days away . . . student buys textbook . . . student procrastinates . . . one day left . . . student reads textbook . . . all-night stand . . . zero! hour . . . back to Bailey's . . . rain.

No lectures, no papers, no finals, no nuttin' . . . Dope Shop 128.

AND THE ALUMS RETURN FOR HOMECOMING . . .

Hal McElhane, captain of the football team, crowns Nancy Rodhouse Homecoming Queen with the assistance of crownbearer Pelham Wilder.

Ring of hammers echoes over the campus . . . stacks of lumber disappear from new dorm construction site . . . homecoming displays arise . . . students prepare to welcome alums . . . coeds develop dramatic talents . . . skits take form . . . and the big week end arrives . . . scores of graduates return to Alma Mater . . . school honors with banquet . . . homecoming show sets off festivities . . . students' efforts finally rewarded . . . Phi Delts' display takes top honors . . . Aycok's "Sausage Men" dance to first place . . . and then beauty on parade . . . crowning of the Queen . . . Southgate's Nancy Rodhouse reigns . . . Maryland invades the gridiron . . . Blue Devils exhibit culinary skills . . . make Terrapin soup . . . cinch Orange Bowl bid . . . fraternities celebrate with open houses . . . gym crowded for Homecoming dance . . . cabin parties lure many . . . and the week end is over . . . displays now in state of disrepair . . . and sleepy students return to routine of classes.

Invasion of the Sausage Men! Aycock takes first place in the Homecoming skits.

AND THE CAMPUS CHEST DRIVE . . .

Campus Chest members display their many posters which will help them further their big drive.

... AND SOME FINE ENTERTAINMENT ...

Page Auditorium packed . . . for the versatile Four Freshmen . . . lush ballads . . . the sighs of young lovers . . . novelty songs and jokes to everyone's surprise . . . Don Barbour's "Baltimore Oriole" . . . and for the modern jazz fan . . . Don Shirley and his "tonal expressions" . . . a real cool sound, man! . . . then it was the Satchmo's turn . . . a jazz great, and no wonder . . . the flashing trumpet . . . the big white handkerchief . . . and the rasping voice . . . the indoor stadium echoing with the sound of tapping feet . . . big Thelma bouncing it one time! . . . Trummy Young and his shimmering trombone . . . Chesterfield brings Fisher, Gobel, and Morgan . . . songs and jokes and half the population of Durham . . . a lavish spectacular . . . good show, old man, good show!

Man, these cats are really with it . . . dig that gone, swingin' jazz . . . cool, Satchmo, cool!

Duke's fall entertainment begins with the Four Freshmen.

... FOOTBALL SEASON ...

Devil and Ram lock horns as Duke and N. C. battle.

The Big Blue looked good in pre-season polls . . . and then seemed to be living up to Duke's hopes . . . five straight wins . . . but then a tie with State, a loss to Tech, and a tie with Navy . . . a close decision over Clemson . . . the UNC game . . . apprehension . . . hope . . . faith . . . a one touch-down lead going into the third quarter . . . but in the end, a loss . . . still the Orange Bowl bid and a chance at mighty Oklahoma . . . Miami . . . beautiful weather . . . Smilin' Bill's new strategy . . . and again, optimism . . . three quarters of pretty good ball . . . the fourth quarter and disaster . . . not the best season . . . but not the worst either.

Ready . . . set . . . flash! "HITERPS."

"Smiling" Bill? (or do these decisions get you down?)

... DOUBLE TREAT FOR SHOE 'N' SLIPPER ...

Bright note on the rainy horizon . . . fall week end perks up . . . dampened spirits . . . Beneke and Thornhill for S 'n' S . . . Friday concert . . . Beneke rocking the indoor stadium . . . "Elvis" Temko croons . . . highlights afternoon . . . a bite to eat . . . a change of clothes . . . and off to the informal dance . . . Beneke again . . . Glenn Miller favorites . . . music mingled with the shuffle of feet . . . Saturday the Clemson game . . . celebrations in order . . . as Big Blue rumbles to victory . . . and then . . . tuxes and evening dresses: apparel of the day . . . formal dance . . . to the strains of Thornhill's rhythms . . . adequate . . . coeds gain late permission . . . return tired, but happy . . . and the big week end is over . . .

An added attraction . . . Mike Temko sings with Beneke Band as concert kicks off Shoe 'n' Slipper festivities.

Singer enhances Thornhill Orchestra. Diet anyone?

Who's toe are you stepping on now?

The Pi Kappa Phis and the Kappa Deltas bring smiles to the faces of Edgemont children at their annual Christmas party.

C H R I

And Christmas nears . . . vacation soon . . . revived interest in life . . . parties, parties, everywhere . . . and not a . . . sororities and fraternities collaborate to celebrate . . . parties for underprivileged kids . . . publications rejoice . . . parties for CHANTICLEER, Chronicle, Archive staffs . . . parties in the dormitories . . . parties in the sections . . . but no rain . . . snow . . . first one of the year . . . and no one feels like studying . . . but life and hour quizzes, go on . . .

Through the efforts of Social Standards, a Christmas Tree lights up East Campus, the beginning of a new tradition.

Dr. Blackburn revives the holiday spirit in Bassett house with his reading of Christmas stories.

M A S

A brightly lit Christmas tree on East . . . brightly lit students flock around . . . singing carols . . . keeping everyone in the Christmas spirit . . . and awake nights . . . the holidays near . . . as do deadlines for term papers, hour quizzes . . . but the big day arrives at last . . . campus empties . . . no place like home for the holidays . . . students meet in Miami . . . more parties . . . best yet . . . and how! . . . vacationers return to Duke for a rest.

Studies take a back seat as MSF members surrender to the gaiety of Christmas.

Santa Claus? Who do you think you're fooling, Sheheen?

Each house captures the Christmas spirit by decorating their trees.

Even the CHANTICLEER staff knows it's Christmas as Evelyn, Betty and Pat take a "party" break.

Clue for the week: "That's snow, fella, not rain!" And our first one at that.

In spite of the disappointment written on the faces of the cheerleaders, the Orange Bowl was an exciting experience for the Duke fans.

The long grind . . .

The short doze . . .

The final struggle.

DAYS OF DEPRESSION . . . EXAMS

Christmas holidays over . . . books dusted off . . . attempts at a semester's reading in a day . . . zombie-like students striding the campus . . . social life reaches new low . . . for most . . . panic . . . frantic cramming . . . and then it's all over . . . vows made that next semester will be different! . . . semester holidays . . . and vows promptly forgotten . . . home again for many . . . but those who stay see Duke topple No. 1 ranked West Virginia.

Cheerleader Marvin Barnes tears down the net as Duke chalks up another victory.

Lucky in cards?

Hank Custer repeats,
"Lucky to be a Phi Delt."
Keep smiling, freshmen!

Administration

DR. HOLLIS EDENS . . .

president of Duke University

Dr. A. Hollis Edens has served as President of Duke University since January of 1949. From this date, he has worked with much success to raise Duke's academic standing and improve relations between the administration and the students.

Aside from this primary job, Duke President Edens has found time to distinguish himself in other positions which have been bestowed upon him. During this academic year, he has served on the Executive Committee of the National Commission on Accrediting. He also served on the President's Committee on Education beyond the High School. In addition, President Eisenhower reappointed Dr. Edens to the U. S. Advisory Commission on Educational Exchange in February of this year. Another appointment of national interest was his selection to a Committee on Canadian-American Affairs.

As a member of the University Senate of the Methodist Church, his varied experience proved very helpful. He also finds time to take an active part in civic affairs in the city of Durham.

Jordan, Vice-President in the Division of Public Relations.

Decisions concerning the finances of Duke University lie with the Board of Trustees. Each member is chosen by the North Carolina and Western North Carolina Conferences and is well-qualified to manage the University from behind the scenes. Some of the duties of the Board include the determining of major policies, confirmation of newly selected deans, the issuance of diplomas, and the approval of any major changes in the University, such as the erection of new buildings. Since 1954, Norman A. Coker has served as Chairman of the Board.

ENGINEERING

Since its organization in 1939, the college of Engineering has become a vital and integral part of Duke University. The college provides up-to-date specialized instruction for Duke's future engineers. The college is divided into three separate departments, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, and Mechanical Engineering. The Chairmen of these departments are, respectively, Robert S. Rowe, Charles R. Vail, and John N. McDuff. As Dean of the College of Engineering, Walter J. Seeley co-ordinates the activities of these three departments and stimulates public interest in the college. The College is equipped with the most modern technical apparatus in its laboratories and has a complete staff of equally fine instructors.

DEANS OF WOMEN

Throughout her college career, each Duke Co-Ed benefits socially and academically from the work of the Deans. Counseling in academic matters, approving social events, and supervising extracurricular activities are but a few of their duties.

Miss Roberta Florence Brinkley, Dean of the Woman's College, graduated from Agnes Scott College. She received her M.A. and Ph.D. from George Peabody College for Teachers and Yale University. Her greatest interest is Seventeenth Century English Literature. As Dean of Undergraduate Instruction, Miss Ellen Huckabee advises freshman and sophomore women and serves as special advisor to the Freshman Advisory Council. She received her B.A. and M.A. from Duke. Miss Mariana Jenkins, Associate Dean of Undergraduate Instruction, received her A.B. and Ph.D. at Bryn Mawr and her M.A. at Radcliffe. She is advisor to Juniors and Seniors. Miss Mary Grace Wilson, who is Dean of Undergraduate Women, studied at Winthrop College and did graduate work at Columbia. She advises the students in non-academic affairs. Mrs. Frances Whitaker, Assistant Dean of Undergraduate Women, also has a B.A. from Winthrop and an M.A. from Columbia. Mrs. W. S. Persons, Director of Admissions, was awarded both her A.B. and M.A. at Duke.

GRADUATE

Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences

Bringing many honors and much prestige to Duke University are its six graduate schools. These schools rank among the best in the country. Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences is Marcus E. Hobbs who came to Duke in 1935 and held the position of head of the Chemistry Department before gaining his present position. This school awards five different degrees. The Divinity School, first of the Graduate Schools at Duke, was organized in 1926 with its primary purpose to provide for the training of individuals planning to enter the ministry. Dr. James Cannon has served as Dean of the Divinity School since 1950. Head of the School of Nursing is Dean Ann M. Jacobansky who supervises its nursing courses. The Nursing School, established in 1931, has set forth as its central aim the promotion of common interest in the Medical School, the School of Nursing, and the Duke Hospital. The School of Forestry, with Elwood Harrar as Dean, was started in 1931 to provide training for professional degrees. The School of Medicine was established in 1931 and now ranks with the upper twenty-five per cent of the medical schools in the United States. Wilburt C. Davison, Dean of the School for more than thirty years, holds degrees from Princeton, Johns Hopkins, and Oxford Universities. Elvin R. Latty is the Acting Dean of the School of Law which, with its Legal Aid Clinic and outstanding faculty, also holds high national rank.

ALUMNI DEPARTMENT

CHARLES DUKES
Director of the Alumni Department

Under the direction of Charles A. Dukes, the Alumni Department is keeping thousands of alumni in touch with their Alma Mater, as well as performing many other services on campus. News of the campus and of Duke graduates is brought to the alumni by the Alumni Register and the Alumni News, sponsored by the department. These publications are mailed to all contributors to the Loyalty Fund.

The Alumni Department is also responsible for planning special entertainment for returning alumni. Outstanding among these are Homecoming, Founder's Day, and the Alumni Week End.

In another capacity, the Department keeps a complete record of every person who graduates from Duke.

Organizations

The Men's Student Government Association, established in 1922, serves to "further the activities of student life, promote a widespread interest in student affairs, and to develop greater spirit of progressive citizenship" on the Duke campus. Functioning as the supreme instrument of government in regulating the affairs of all the male students on the Duke University campus, this system of student government has been constantly changing, growing, and adapting itself to new circumstances which have arisen during the past thirty-six years. MSGA completed a broad program of activities for 1957-58, keeping these purposes and objectives in mind: "to promote the best interests of Duke University; to advance the welfare of the individual students; to regulate matters pertaining to the conduct of the male undergraduates; to cooperate with the administration relations."

Included in the many projects of MSGA for this year were the proposing of an Academic Honor Code and a major revision in the student government, the instituting of a student opinion polling organization and a joint MSGA-WSGA executive committee, and the undertaking of a safety project for Myrtle Drive.

Constructed along the lines similar to our national government, MSGA is composed of a legislative, an executive, and a judicial branch. The Legislature, composed of the executive officers of the association and representatives from each social fraternity, class, freshman house, and the independents, meets weekly to consider all matters of campus-wide interest. This body has the power to enact any necessary rules or regulations in order to carry on its program effectively.

The judicial branch of MSGA consists of the Men's Judicial Board and its subsidiary organization, the Court of Appeals.

This branch serves to uphold the rules and regulations of Duke University and to act as a campus disciplinary organ.

The executive branch is headed by the Association president, assisted by his cabinet, which he appoints, and whose members must be approved by the Legislature. This branch carries on the administrative duties of the association and formulates the legislative policy.

President of Men's Student Government

ELIZABETH HANFORD
President of Woman's Student Government

Feeling that an organization was needed through which students could govern themselves, the students of the Woman's College organized the first student government in 1919. A few years later, in 1924, when the Woman's College became a part of the University, the Women's Student Government Association of Duke University was founded. Its purpose is to realize student needs, direct student activities and matters pertaining to the life of the women students, pass all legislation for the student body of the Woman's College, maintain the services of the auxiliaries, and further a spirit of unity among the women students.

WSGA is made up of the entire student body of the Woman's College, but works through a council and its auxiliaries. Its unique system of "town meetings" of the entire student body gives each individual an opportunity to voice her opinions. This year, guest speakers for these assemblies included President Edens and Mrs. Mary Duke Biddle Semans.

The main project this fall has been the System of Academic Responsibility, proposed and directed by the student governments in an effort to establish an academic honor system for both campuses. An extensive educational campaign, involving the presentation and discussion on the proposed system, took place in almost every campus organization. Also, a five-week Leadership Training Program was set up in the Spring to promote interest in campus leadership and to train students for leadership here at Duke and after graduation.

This year, WSGA took an active part in the National Student Association program. Two delegates were sent to the national convention of NSA in Michigan. Also, delegations were sent to the two regional NSA assemblies and other intercollegiate meetings.

Fund-raising projects were executed in order to bring an additional foreign student to campus next fall. More extensive foreign student exchange and travel programs were adopted and a WSGA Foreign Student Auxiliary established.

In order to carry out these and many other projects effectively, WSGA held, for the first time, two student council workshops during the year. These off-campus retreats were spent planning activities for the next semester and evaluating the results of the past semester's work.

WSGA committee meets in the office to discuss the new leadership training program.

An East Campus co-ed goes to the polls to cast her vote for the proposed Honor Code.

The Men's Judicial Board, composed of three juniors and six seniors, functions to uphold the rules and regulations of Duke University. The Board, appointed by the president of MSGA and approved by the Legislature, handles cases of misconduct and violations involving undergraduates in Trinity College and the College of Engineering. Under the chairmanship of Bill Mewborne, the Board investigates and holds hearings on cases that are submitted by the Deans' Office, the Maintenance Department, or the Campus Police. The Board also reviews decisions made by IFC, Court of Appeals, and Traffic Court.

ELLEN BRADLEY
Chairman of Women's Judicial Board

The Women's Judicial Board, composed of an elected representative from each dormitory and Town Girls, and the President of WSGA as an ex-officio member, serves to explain the rules and reasons for their existence on campus, to act as a rules committee to revise and change regulations according to the needs of the student body, to try individually those girls who have violated the regulations, and to serve as a court of appeals in cases arising from Traffic Court and the House Judicial Committees. This year, the Board has revised the rules concerning minor latenesses and has done extensive work on the proposed academic honor code.

Acting under the supervision of YMCA, the Men's Freshman Advisory Council guides the freshman class through Orientation Week and offers student advice on individual problems throughout the year. Each of the sixty-seven council members is assigned approximately ten freshmen to be given invaluable aid in their adjustment to college life at Duke. To accomplish this objective, weekly meetings are held emphasizing some particular phase of Duke life. Each week, in conjunction with this program, the FAC publications are keyed to the particular subject for emphasis during that week.

The Women's Freshman Advisory Council aids the freshman girls in their academic and social adjustment in order to provide for a happy and profitable college career. During Orientation Week, the FAC's act as constant guides to each freshman and acquaint her with the rules, customs, traditions of life at Duke. Throughout the year, the FAC maintains close contact with the freshmen and acts as an ever-present source of information, advice, and guidance. The FAC's are chosen in the spring from the rising junior and senior classes on the basis of outstanding scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

The Engineers' Student Council is the chief governing body for the students of the College of Engineering. The Council plays a vital role by helping the faculty of the College of Engineering solve various problems related to the students and by coordinating the class activities. Composed of class officers and representatives from the organizations in the College of Engineering, the Council directs and supervises the annual Engineers' Show, Engineers' Ball, Homecoming displays, and many other activities. The body also sponsors a freshman open-house and the Engineers' Guidance Council. Jerry Neal was the president of the Engineers' Student Council this year.

RALPH BARNES
Chairman of Engineers' Guidance Council

The Engineers' Guidance Council, in their first full year of operation at Duke University, advised freshman engineers concerning their studies and extracurricular activities. Each member of the 50-man council, led by Chairman Ralph Barnes and Co-chairmen Jim Girand and Dick Wright, was assigned four or five freshman boys. He visited them individually each week and helped them with any personal problems that might have arisen. He also conducted review sessions before hour quizzes. These sessions, one of the most important aspects of the work done by the men on the Council, helped the freshman engineers adjust to academic life.

Celebrating its third anniversary on the Duke Campus, Student Union provides a center for the activities and interests of all students by offering a varied and balanced schedule of events covering the social, recreational, cultural, and educational aspects of college life.

The Union operates through seven separate committees in order to handle efficiently its continually expanding program. The Major Attractions Committee brings renowned personalities to the Duke Campus for everyone's enjoyment. Such "Big Shows" for this year included the Four Freshmen and the Don Shirley Trio. The Educational Affairs Committee brought Abba Eban and Sir Reginald Sorrenson to the Campus. Aiming for better East-West-Nursing School relations through a full, but "casual," program, the Social Committee sponsors Candlelight Cabarets, Open Houses, and informal dances. The Music and Arts Committee seeks to further campus interest in all the arts by sponsoring art exhibits, the Hi-Fi lounge, and artists such as John Jacob Niles. The Recreation Committee sponsors tennis exhibitions, movies of out of town games, and the game room. Handling much of the maintenance of Flowers Building, the center of all these activities, the House Committee draws up a calendar of all the Student Union sponsored events and provides magazines and decorations for the lounge. In order to publicize the Student Union program, the Publicity Committee makes posters for the other committees to distribute throughout the campus. Through this active program, the Student Union has become one of the most vital Duke organizations.

PAT MERCHANT
Chairman, Student Forum

Each year Student Forum presents concerts, lectures, and discussions which seek to enrich university life. The programs are specifically designed to create student interest in new areas of study.

This year, for the first time, the committee, under the leadership of Pat Merchant, sold season tickets to those members of the university community who wished to hear the programs. As a result, many men students and members of the faculty came in November to hear New York Pro Musica Antiqua. Many also came in January to see Othello performed by the Canadian Players and in May to hear E. E. Cummings read his poetry.

The members of the Court of Appeals are from left to right, around the table: Larry Bennett, Joe Farmer, Keith Davis (Chairman), John Huss, and Cole Black.

In its third year of successful operation, the Court of Appeals serves to review cases of appeal concerning student violation of University traffic regulations, liabilities for damaged property, and delinquency in the payment of MSGA dues. Through this vital service, the Court has become a worthy asset to Duke's judicial system.

COURT of APPEALS

TRADITION BOARD

Traditions Board serves the University by sponsoring a freshman orientation program which includes the teaching of school songs, customs, history, and the distribution of dinks to all the freshmen. Through this extensive program, Traditions Board seeks to create a feeling of class unity and school spirit in each freshman class.

The National Student Association, a confederation of more than 380 colleges and universities, enabled Duke Woman's College delegates to take part in the tenth annual NSA Congress this year.

The 1,200 delegates pledged themselves to stand with the freedom-loving students throughout the world.

Back on our own campus, our NSA Committee put many Congress resolutions into practice. Composed of dorm representatives and members-at-large, the Committee was divided into four sub-committees covering international affairs, foreign student exchange, travel, and parliamentary procedure. Through these committees, NSA completed a very successful program for the year.

Campus Chest is organized to enable students to contribute to a variety of worthy charities with a single donation. This year Marion Fernando was the chairman for East Campus, and Marvin Barnes was the chairman for West Campus. On East Campus, pledges were collected on October 21 through 23 in a door-to-door canvass of the dorms. The charities supported by the Campus Chest on East Campus are the Alice M. Baldwin Scholarship fund, the Foreign Student Fund, the World University Service and many others. The fund-raising drive on West Campus was held March 3 through 8, and the proceeds went to several other worth-while charities and organizations.

Chairman of Social Standards

The Social Standards Committee, an auxiliary of WSGA, promotes a pleasant social life on the Duke Campus by maintaining among the women students certain standards of good taste and by sponsoring various social activities. Each year the committee publishes Design for a Duchess, which includes regulations and hints about social behavior on East Campus. Social Standards also sponsors the two Coed Balls which feature the CHANTICLEER Beauty Court in the fall and the May Court in the spring. Among the projects for this year were the compiling of a social activities file and the sponsoring of a lawn concert series on East Campus.

With eighty-five per cent of the entire men's student body in its membership, the Young Men's Christian Association began a full, active year by sponsoring orientation week and a dance, "Twilight Time," for the freshmen, thus rendering a service to the whole university community by helping the freshmen get adjusted.

Study groups, retreats, and vesper services were held by the "Y" throughout the year, with the dual aims of promoting students' growth in the Christian faith and leading students into membership in the Christian church. Aid was also given to Edgemont Community Center and Wright's Refuge as "Y" projects.

Annually, the YMCA sponsors "Dad's Day," when fathers see the campus with their sons and enjoy a Duke social week end, and the Duke Ambassador's Concert—showing the "Y's" aim to provide wholesome social activities for the students.

The "Y" also serves Duke through its publications: the Freshman Handbook, listing rules and activities; a Student Directory, giving names, local and home addresses of students; and an annual "Y" report for the student body. Thus, the "Y," one of the oldest leading organizations at Duke, combines religion, service, and social life into one main aim which it applies in its activities.

The Young Women's Christian Association has a long history of service to the students of the Woman's College. From a modest beginning, the program of the "Y" has grown and expanded to its present size, covering almost every aspect of student life. This year, 90 per cent of the coeds were members of the "Y."

In order to carry out its extensive program, the YWCA is divided into several committees. Included in this list are the worship, publicity, race relations, senior seminar, Edgemont, and fellowship committees, to name only a few. The Social Service Committee, composed of 150 girls, coordinates the very successful charity programs at Duke Hospital, Wright's Refuge, and the Veterans' Hospital. The "Y" members also act as Grey Ladies and Girl Scout Leaders. The Freshman "Y," another vital committee, works alone on special projects, including a weekly newsletter.

This year, the "Y" has carried on its successful annual program of events, including Mother-Daughter week end held April 18-20, the Lost and Found Sale in the fall, and weekly devotionals in the dorms. This year, the National YWCA Convention was held March 13-19 in St. Louis. The Duke "Y" sent two delegates to this conference in order to share its own ideas and to get new ideas in order to expand and improve its present program.

Hospital work is among the many activities of the YWCA.

The Duke University Religious Council is the student-faculty group whose concern is the total religious life of the University, including the University Chapel and its various activities. The Council is composed of faculty, administration, and student representatives, with Dr. Creighton Lacy as its chairman.

Through its committees, the Council is related to every aspect of the religious program. These committees co-ordinate their activities with the various denominational and faith programs in order to provide rich and varied opportunities for religious fellowship, growth, and service.

This year's Religious Emphasis program consisted of three periodic faith forums which approached the Christian faith in different ways. Dr. Arnold S. Nash, Professor of History of Religion at UNC, participated in discussions November 10-13 concerning "The Dogmatic Basis of a University." The principal meeting was a forum discussion with Dr. Charles Baylis of Duke. On March 1-3, the "science-religion" question was dealt with by Dr. W. G. Pollard, Executive Director of Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies. In addition to preaching in the Chapel, he discussed "Science and Community" in a forum discussion. The "Moravian Love Feast" was held on April 20.

Since then, Kappa Chi has been active on this campus by sponsoring vesper services each Thursday evening in the Chapel and by helping with the worship services at the Veterans' Hospital. Through worship, fellowship, and service, Kappa Chi strives to aid in developing a fuller realization of the duties of the Christian ministry and to bring about closer co-operation among the various denominations. Headed by Gary Brown, Kappa Chi held two meetings a month as a means of fellowship and carrying out its full program.

The Chapel Choir, under the direction of Professor Paul Young, contributes to the religious life of the Duke University community by providing a large repertoire of sacred music for the Sunday morning Chapel services. The Choir, composed of approximately 200 voices selected from the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs, has been taking part in these Chapel services since the opening of the Chapel in 1933. In addition to this inspirational service to the university, the Choir gives two special performances during the year. Handel's Messiah is presented at Christmas time, and Mendelssohn's Elijah in the spring.

Dean Herring, Chairman of Publications Board, and Nan Whyte, Secretary, draw up the agenda for the next Board meeting.

The Publications Board is a student-faculty-administration organization serving as a central body to govern and unify the editorial policies of student publications on the Duke campus. The Board, with Dean Herring serving as its chairman, elects the editors and business managers of all the publications, sets their salaries, and regulates the commercial advertising in the publications. The voting members of the board include two representatives from the administration, three faculty representatives, four women elected by the Women's College, four men from Trinity College, and two men from the College of Engineering. Nan Whyte served as secretary of the Board this year.

The third floor of Flowers Building, commonly known as "Pub Row," houses the offices of most of the student publications of Duke University. Almost every day, a hum of activity emerges from the doors of these offices as the publications of varied size and type are readied for printing and then are circulated throughout the campus and the nation. All along Pub Row opportunity abounds for the student who enjoys original and creative writing, photography, or similar activities. The editors and business managers of these publications contribute a great deal to the University community by producing some of the finest collegiate publications in the country.

Gercken, T. Miller, D. Passin, J. Cullen.

After the staff spent many long, hard hours working on the 1957-1958 CHANTICLEER, the yearbook, bound in a bright red cover, was presented to the Duke University Student Body. As in years past, the CHANTICLEER staff tried to portray all aspects of campus life in the most interesting manner possible. Defying past traditions, however, for the second time in the history of the CHANTICLEER, the important decisions concerning the yearbook were made by co-editors. Jennie Holt and Marilyn Lyon, presiding over the editorial staff, made these decisions, while Barry Blechman directed the yearbook finances as business manager.

The "Tower of Campus Thought and Action" again met its task of keeping the students and faculty abreast of campus events with its bi-weekly eight-page issues. Early in the fall, Editor Fred Sheheen's powerful pen helped other campus leaders in a struggle for an honor code, but to no avail. Business Manager Jim Barker moved his staff across Pub Row into the old Peer office and put the paper's financial affairs on a new peak of efficiency. This year, the Chronicle instituted a new policy of not printing unsigned letters to the editor. The best compliment to the hard working staff was that this year the Peer did not call it the Chronic-ill.

JIM BARKER

Jim Applewhite, Editor and Herb Johnson
Business Manager of the Archive.

The Archive, published quarterly is the "South's Oldest Collegiate Magazine." It first received its charter from the Library of Congress in 1913 and since that time has served as the student literary magazine for Duke University. First published as a newsletter, the Archive later became a feature magazine and then developed into its present form as a fine arts publication presenting student creative work in the arts. In each issue, the Archive includes student-written short stories and poetry plus several examples of paintings and similar art work done by Duke students. This year, Jim Applewhite was the editor of the Archive.

THE ARCHIVE

Serving as a program for campus organization performances, the Playbill is one of the most widely read and yet little known publications of the Duke University campus. It is published for each performance of the All-Star Concert Series, Duke Players productions, Hoof 'n' Horn, Student Forum presentations, and Glee Club performances. The Playbill includes the program for each presentation in addition to background material concerning the group or artist that is performing. This year Bud Siler was the editor, and Howard Berman was the business manager. Though one of the smallest publications on Pub Row, the Playbill is of much service to the campus.

Gene Van Curen, Editor, and Huck Givens, Business Manger, of the DukEngineer.

The DukEngineer began as a mimeographed newsletter for engineers in 1942 and has developed into one of the largest and most widely circulated college engineering magazines in the country. This publication gives students an opportunity to present technical subjects and is also an outlet for industry to reach the students on varying engineering accomplishments. In addition to its scientific and technical articles, it also has coverage on the lighter side of engineering and a joke section. Published four times a year, the DukEngineer is the only student publication which receives no financial support from the University.

The members of ASCE are, first row, left to right, E. Gilbert, D. Wasson, T. Lanning, R. Bain, H. Irvin, B. Fisher, B. Anderson. Second row, D. Bolinger, H. Haynes, G. Van Schoig, J. D'Huy, R. Dawson, T. Miller, H. Blackburn.

The ASCE was founded with two objectives: to further the advancement of the knowledge of theory and practice of civil engineering, and to give a presentation of the proper perspective of engineering work. Membership in this organization is open to all CE students, although officers must have a "C" average. Regular meetings are held on the first Tuesday of every month, at which time the program consists of guest speakers who talk on phases of civil engineering. Social activities include a picnic, a banquet, and two field trips, one of which is held in the fall and one in the spring.

HARRY BLACKBURN, President and DON BOLINGER, Vice-President of ASCE.

JIM REDMOND
President of AIEE

The Duke Chapter of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers was organized by Professor Walter J. Secley in 1927. Since that time, the AIEE has served to acquaint its fifty members with both the practical and theoretical phases of electrical engineering and to investigate the latest developments in the field of engineering. This year, the Duke chapter of AIEE was host to the District 4 Student Paper Conference which includes all schools in the South having AIEE chapters. The Society, meeting every month, also sponsored field trips to the Kerr Dam Hydroelectric Station and the Dan River Steam Plant.

President of ASME

The main purpose of the Duke Branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers is to promote interest in the profession of mechanical engineering and to give the student a first-hand look at his chosen field. The monthly meetings of the Society, aiming to keep its members informed of the latest advancements in the theory and practice of mechanical engineering, sponsors speakers, movies, and discussions on the various aspects of the profession. Joint society meetings and several field trips to points of interest fill out the active program of the ASME in its effort to acquaint the students with their future occupation.

PRE-MED SOCIETY

The Duke Pre-Medical Society was formally organized in March, 1937, under the leadership of William Nesbitt, the first president. Since that time, the society has been an active organization, striving to continue and expand its original purposes and aims. These are to prepare its members for Medical School through close co-operation with the Duke Medical School and to serve the campus with its projects and its advisory board. Among the activities of the Society are a blood drive, free blood typing, and free chest X-rays for the entire student body. In addition, the Society holds two banquets during the year to round out its activities.

WILLIAM MEFFERT
President of the Pre-Med Society

President of Bench and Bar

The Duke Bench and Bar Society is organized for the purpose of serving as a center for undergraduate pre-legal thought. Its membership is not restricted to pre-law students but is open to all undergraduates who are interested in learning about the opportunities and requirements of the legal profession. The Society's programs for the year included mock trials, movies dealing with various legal problems, talks by law professors, and talks by practicing lawyers and judges. Through this extensive program, the Society offers invaluable help to interested students in deciding on their life's career.

Members of Bench and Bar, first row, left to right: W. Harrelson, M. Atkins, C. Thompson, J. Smith, R. Embley, S. Davidow. Second row: J. Whitlock, B. Kloppman, G. Eaton, D. Rowe, S. Crawford, Mr. J. Bradway, advisor.

The first act finale of Magnolias and Madness. Beauregard has a few troublesome surprises for all who would like to "Send Him Home."

GORDON FIRTH
Hoof 'n' Horn President

With its twenty-first anniversary show, Hoof 'n' Horn looks back on a long history of student written and directed musicals. After several hesitant starts since its organization in 1936, the club emerged to prestige in 1948 with its first sell-out and has continued to produce outstanding shows, which, since 1950, have become highlights of Joe College Week Ends. This year's show, Magnolias and Madness, found its literary origin in Don Quixote and went on to change nothing but the story. Set in the contemporary North and South, the musical concerned the comical adventures of a quixotic Beauregard who went North to re-fight the Civil War.

HOOF 'N' HORN

Jim Haney and Kay Norris look on with varying reactions as their maids carry George Autry through "An Old-Fashioned Victory."

Savannah Lee (Margi Linsert) fears that her uncle Beauregard (George Autry) believes that "The War Isn't Over Yet."

Eligibility for membership in Hoof 'n' Horn requires active participation in one show, although the year's activities extend to providing entertainment for Homecoming, Dad's Day, Mother-Daughter Week End, Commencement, hospital groups, and frequent tours to other universities. The Executive Council sets all annual club functions, selects the script, and forms the show policy, including its technical and business as well as creative elements. In the spring, this policy is carried through by an elected Production Staff.

Gordon Firth, president of Hoof 'n' Horn, was also the author and director of this year's show.

PROFESSOR MICHELAK AND GEORGE AUTRY
Faculty Advisor and President of Duke Players

Organized 27 years ago, Duke Players has become one of the finest collegiate dramatic organizations in the country. The purpose of the Players is "to foster understanding of the arts of the theatre and to act as a producing organization for the university community, combining the best elements of educational and commercial theatre." The membership includes anyone working 50 hours on productions during a season. Headed by president George Autry, this year's major productions were Teahouse of the August Moon, Chkov's Uncle Vanya, and Volpone by Janson, plus many readings and student directed laboratory productions of one-act plays.

Johnny Hill, president; Jim Redmond, Business Manager.

The Men's Glee Club, under the direction of Professor Paul Young, contributes to the musical activities of Duke University by providing a place for all men on campus who like and want to sing. The Club has built up extensive national prestige through its very successful tours and public appearances. This year's Northern tour was highlighted by appearances on Ed Sullivan's Television Show and several radio shows. The Club completed tours of North Carolina and the Southern States in the spring. The 200-voice group gave a concert this fall in conjunction with Dad's Day, a Spring Concert, and sang for the Commencement Exercises.

FRANCES SPEAR
President, Woman's Glee Club

The Women's Glee Club, under the able direction of Professor Paul Young, provides social and musical enjoyment for Woman's College students who are interested in singing. The membership is limited to two hundred Woman's College students who are chosen by the director through auditions. The Women's Glee Club presented a joint concert with the Duke University Men's Glee Club on Dad's Day and gave their annual Spring Concert on Mother-Daughter Week End in April. Also, the members of the Glee Club have furnished music for the Sunday morning Chapel Service at the Veterans' Administration Hospital.

The Duke Symphony, which encourages students with musical talent, gives several concerts during the school year.

DR. ALLEN H. BONE
Director of Duke Symphony Orchestra

The Duke Symphony Orchestra completed its eleventh season under the direction of Allen H. Bone, presenting to the Duke University community "amateur performance at a high level of artistic accomplishment." The seventy-five piece Symphony is essentially a student orchestra. However, it does include some Durham citizens and regular members from out-of-town. Each year, the Symphony makes two major appearances featuring various outstanding soloists. This year Loren Withers, pianist, was featured at the fall concert, while the Philadelphia Windwood Quintet was featured in the spring.

DUKE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The Duke Concert Band gives concerts for the University community and makes a tour in the spring to various towns in the state.

PAUL R. BRYAN
Director of the Concert Band

Directed by Dr. Paul Bryan, the Duke University Concert Band presents outstanding musical concerts throughout the year that will be pleasing and stimulating to the University community. The Concert Band gives qualified musicians a chance to continue their ensemble training and at the same time derive pleasure and experience from the many public concerts that are given. The highlight of these was the spring concert featuring Percy Grainger as guest soloist.

Besides the two formal concerts, the Band gives lawn concerts, provides music for Commencement, and takes a tour through North Carolina in the spring.

KENNY JOLLS
Director of the Duke Ambassadors

This year marks the Duke Ambassadors' twenty-fifth anniversary as one of America's leading collegiate dance orchestras. Hundreds of appearances on college campuses and at civic and state functions that include the North Carolina Governor's Ball have brought the Ambassadors renown in a number of eastern states. Overseas entertainment missions for the Armed Forces have won friends for Duke University in Iceland, the Azores and Bermuda. Grounded in tradition but constantly in the forefront of worthwhile trends, the Ambassadors now look forward to their second quarter-century as an organization dedicated to providing topflight musical entertainment.

AMBASSADORS

The Duke University Marching Band forms a musical note out on the football field while the crowd and the Devil observe.

GEORGE HENSLEY
Drum Major

The arrival of Dr. Paul Bryan in 1951 brought a new concept of marching bands to the South that has been copied by colleges and high schools throughout the area. The fast cadence, high stepping, and original formations of the eighty-eight band members provide spirit, entertainment, and vivid color at the Duke football games. In addition to performing at every home game this year, the Marching Band traveled to perform at the Navy game in Baltimore and at the N. C. State game in Raleigh. In addition to these activities, a small group of band members forms the Pep Band which plays at the pep rallies before each game.

Carl Stewart, President, with Dr. Wetherby, Faculty Advisor to the Debating Council.

The Duke University Debate Council, which serves to develop and maintain skill in argumentation and debate and to encourage participation in inter-collegiate tournaments, has existed at Duke from the beginning of Trinity College. Last year, the council debated with nearly two hundred individual teams, traveled almost ten thousand miles, and was the Southern representative to the West Point National Tournament. This year, the council participated in fourteen inter-collegiate tournaments. The University can be proud of its debating team which has been the ACC champion for four consecutive years.

ROBERT GAMBLE
President of Alpha Phi Omega

Alpha Phi Omega, now serving its fourth year of activity at Duke, is a national service fraternity whose aims are to promote leadership and fellowship among its members and to be of service to the campus, community, and nation.

Throughout the year, this fraternity works with the Boy Scouts of this area. In the fall, it sponsors an orientation program for foreign graduate students and works at the Methodist Retirement Home, the Durham Children's Museum, and the Child Guidance Center. Spring projects include an annual Student Furnishings Sale and ushering done by the brothers at Student Union activities.

LARRY ALSTER
President of Shoe 'n' Slipper Club

The Shoe 'n Slipper Club, organized in 1948, brings "big name" dance bands to the Duke Campus each year for the two big week ends, Joe College and Shoe 'n Slipper. This fall, for the first time in Shoe 'n Slipper history, two big name bands entertained for the price of one. Tex Beneke played for the concert and informal dance Friday, and Claude Thornhill provided the music for the formal dance. The Council Membership, including the executive committee, is 45. Also, there are 1,250 members who bought bids this year. Meetings are held on Thursday nights just before and after the big week ends.

DR. WETHERBY
Faculty Advisor to WDBS

Acting as Board of Governors for WDBS, the Radio Council of Duke University is responsible for formulating general policies, approving the budget, and electing the officers of WDBS.

This year, a representative from Hanes House was added to the group of students and faculty members who compose the Radio Council, so that the Nurses, as well as East and West campuses and their respective governments, are represented. Both faculty and students discuss and vote on all important WDBS matters.

Radio Council has been instrumental in helping the Duke Broadcasting System achieve its prominent position among college radio stations.

Radio is better than ever, and as one of the top college radio stations in the country, WDBS is bigger and better than it has ever been in its nine-year history.

Staffed and operated entirely by students, WDBS provides not only practical experience in radio work but also programs designed exclusively for Duke students.

Since its beginning in 1949, the Duke Broadcasting System has grown by leaps and bounds and can now boast such notable achievements as an 18½-hour-a-day broadcasting schedule, more powerful and higher fidelity reception on both campuses, Headed by Station Manager Joe Lintzenich, WDDB is almost completely self-supporting. Because of its high sales record, it is one of the few organizations on campus that can give salaries to its officers.

"This is the new WDDB, the voice and choice of Duke, serving the entire University community."

BOB CREWS AND MURIEL HENDRIX
Co-Chairmen, Pep Board

Under the co-chairmanship of Bob Crews and Muriel Hendrix, the Pep Board strives to create, maintain, and increase spirit and enthusiasm for Duke University and its teams. The cheerleaders, the card trick committee, and the Blue Devil, under the direction of Pep Board, encourage and coordinate school spirit at Duke sports events, cheering the team on to another victory.

The Pep Board is active at times and in ways other than merely cheering at the games. This year the Board sent telegrams to the team for away football games and sold post cards to the students to fill out and send to the team in Miami for the Orange Bowl Game.

For home football games, the Board sponsors a pep rally before each game and includes a special bonfire before the Carolina game. This year, a spontaneous pep rally before the away Navy game initiated a new format for pep rallies that will be continued by the Board in the future.

This year, the Pep Board started a new service to the Duke University Community and especially to the Duke Athletic Association. A Spring Sports Folder was published to co-ordinate all the information about the time, place, and other aspects of all the spring athletic events and to encourage greater attendance and interest for these events.

AIR ROTC

The Duke University Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps was organized in July, 1949. Expanding in size from the original class of forty-four cadets to a strength of more than six hundred shortly after the beginning of the Korean conflict, the unit consistently maintained a high degree of quality and prestige.

The unit has decreased in size in recent years to approximately 125. Today, the Corps is a select, compact unit, producing officers of which the Air Force and Duke University can be proud.

The mission of the Air Force ROTC Program is to prepare students, through a plan of instruction at civilian educational institutions, to help in the regular and reserve components. In addition, it aids in discharging any institutional obligations by offering instruction in military training. The AFROTC program at Duke consists of two years of training as basic cadets with two academic hours of credit per semester. The last two years consist of four academic hours each semester.

Each week a Leadership Training Lab is held, during which basic cadets are instructed in the fundamentals of discipline, military customs, and courtesies.

Advanced cadets are familiarized with the functions and responsibilities of command positions.

Extracurricular activities in which the AFROTC cadet may engage while at Duke are varied and numerous. There is an extracurricular activity to suit almost any aptitude or amount of free time. The cadet who exhibits interest and enthusiasm through superior performance on the drill field and in the classroom soon finds himself in a position of leadership in the Corps. Although active duty Air Force officers and non-commissioned officers are assigned to supervise and instruct, it is the cadets themselves, who plan and administer all unit activities.

The Precision Drill Team and the Drum and Bugle Corps offer membership to any cadet who is experienced or interested in these fields. These organizations perform not only at parades and reviews, but also in competition with similar groups from other institutions in this area. Duke is fortunate in having one of the few MARS amateur radio stations in the United States. The station has a training program and is available to any cadet who wishes to participate. MARS is the only means by which ham radio operators can continue their hobby at Duke. The Rifle Team is also open to any cadet, and matches with teams from other Universities are scheduled. The Photo Lab has some of the most up-to-date photographic equipment on campus and is available to all cadets interested in this field. Other additional activities in which the cadet may participate are the annual Military Ball, unit parties, orientation flying, field trips to Air Force Bases throughout the country, and publication of the Contact and Dukadet, the Duke AFROTC newspaper and year-book respectively.

Duke can justly be proud of the record of its AFROTC graduates while on active duty with the United States Air Force.

NROTC

The Duke University Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps unit has the job of supplying the United States Naval service with junior officers who have the technical proficiency, the leadership attributes, the well-rounded education, and personal integrity characteristic of Naval officers.

Each midshipman at Duke is trained with this precept in mind. In addition to his chosen major, he is taught junior officer leadership responsibilities, the customs and traditions of the Navy, basic seamanship, and the sciences of gunnery, navigation and steam engineering. His Naval instructors, who are fully accredited Duke faculty members as well as line officers of the United States Navy and the United States Marine Corps, acquaint him with the modern Navy, encourage the development of officer characteristics, and stimulate his interest in the Naval Service.

The midshipmen drill twice weekly to learn discipline and to develop the art of command. Each summer, the midshipmen participate in various cruises where they combine learning seamanship and the duties of officers with the pleasures of foreign ports. The Marine option midshipmen apply the principles of amphibious warfare they learn at Duke during summer training at the Marine Corps Base, Quantico, Virginia.

Duke midshipmen lead in almost every phase of campus activity. They also participate in several unit extracurricular projects that add to the prestige of both the unit and the University. These are the Dolphin, ranked as one of the top unit newspapers in the nation, a crack Drill Team that holds many honors, one of the three bands in the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps, and a good Rifle Team. After four years of extensive education and training, the midshipman reaches his dual goal of diploma and commission.

SEMPER FIDELIS

One may wonder just how it feels to know that you will some day soon become an officer in the world's most elite fighting force. The best way to find out is to ask a member of Beta Charge of the local Semper Fidelis Society. These men know and will tell you that the road to commissioning is an extremely difficult one—one that includes severe mental and physical hardships which are designed to make the individual a leader who demands respect from all men.

These Duke students, whether NROTC, Marine option midshipmen, PLC's Reservists, or Marine veterans, meet during the year to cultivate esprit de corps and to forward the interests of the Marine Corps throughout the University.

Commandant Robert Beane and faculty advisor Major D. D. Ezell led the society to a successful year. Activities included the Marine Corps birthday celebration, a recruiting drive, and a Christmas banquet. The guest speaker at the banquet was a distinguished Marine combat veteran, Colonel J. W. Stevens, deputy director of the Sixth Marine Corps Reserve and Recruitment District.

But no matter what the activity may be, the underlying motive is always clear-cut—to develop the individual team-spirited Marine. Other services appeal to lesser virtues and ideals, but just as many Marine Corps recruiting posters say, "It's the man that counts."

The Semper Fidelis Christmas party included many distinguished guests among whom were (left to right) Commander C. C. Ainsworth, USN; Colonel J. W. Stevens II, USMC; and Major D. D. Ezell, USMC.

In accordance with the tradition throughout the Marine Corps, Beta Charge celebrated the Marine Corps birthday in full ceremony. Major Ezell did the honors of cutting the cake.

Following tradition, the seniors presented the annual tree to the University on Founder's Day and gave their class gift in the spring. In the fall the classes jointly sponsored the Homecoming Dance. The boys sold blazers, and the girls sold carnations for the Duke - U.N.C. game. The class activities ended with plans for Commencement.

Class

This year the junior class introduced something new and different to Duke University by jointly planning and sponsoring the "Devil's Revel" which, judged by the turnout, was a great success. In the spring, the juniors again invited the entire student body to an afternoon of fun and relaxation at a jazz concert.

The sophomores on East and West were rewarded for their hard work and efforts by beautiful weather and enthusiastic freshmen on Dink-Bow Day in the early fall. The girls managed to overcome tradition and were wearing their new blazers in the spring. The girls also raised money by a successful bake sale in the dorms on East.

ANN BRUEGEMANN
Chairman of Judicial Board

The Judicial Board is responsible for trying all infractions of rules set up by the Student Government Association of which it is a member. Members of the Board are elected by their fellow classmates. Infractions of rules in both professional and social aspects of student life are brought before the Board for trial. Penalties are decreed only after careful deliberation and discussion to make certain that the "punishment fits the crime." Any decision that the Board decrees is considered final.

The Honor Council of the School of Nursing is made up of elected members from each of the four classes in the school. Its purpose is to secure the co-operation of the student body in maintaining honorable conduct in all relations of student, professional, and social life, for the Honor System carries its influence into all facets of student life and is based on the individual's personal sense of honor. The Honor Council and advisors try all breeches of the honor system and hold the power of expulsion.

SALLY HOWIE
Hanes House Beauty Queen

Each year Hanes House holds its annual Christmas dance with the crowning of the Queen of the Christmas dance as the highlight of the evening. The queen is selected by the student body from two candidates presented by each class. It is often difficult to choose the queen for each of these girls is not only beautiful but is also active in Student Government affairs, and each one contributes in some way to the betterment of the school and the University.

NURSES' BEAUTIES

Upon her arrival, the freshman student nurse soon finds that those carefree days of high school have been left behind and that a new era of bus rides to East, Zoo quizzes, and English themes has opened before her.

But time passes quickly; her Sophomore year arrives; and for the first time she dons her long yearned for "blues and whites" and arrives for her first day on the wards. Along with her first days on the wards, come lectures with the development of a medical vocabulary and the learning of many new skills each day. Then, in an unbelievably short time, she is no longer a wide-eyed sophomore, but a knowing junior. She goes through Obstetrics, Pediatrics and the operating room, all the time wondering how she can possibly remember all about this new medical world. And then, suddenly, the confident Junior has become an apprehensive Senior.

Rose Forgione, nurse in pediatrics, instructs B. J. Hendrick, Virginia Ferguson, Susan Hunsche, and Jean Durham.

Along with Psychiatry and Public Health studies, the senior accepts the responsibility of being in charge of a ward. Finally, however, comes that last day when the long awaited white uniform is donned by the graduating senior, and with pleasant memories of four wonderful years, she leaves to practice her chosen profession.

CAROL CORDER
Beauty Queen

Perry Como selected the Beauty Queen and court for 1958.

CHANTICLEER BEAUTY QUEEN

Southgate's Carol Corder from Atlanta, Georgia, was chosen as the 1958 CHANTICLEER Beauty Queen from a group of fifteen candidates by singer and television star, Perry Como. Carol was crowned by Barry Blechman, Business Manager of the CHANTICLEER, at the annual Co-Ed Ball held December 13, 1957. This year's queen is a sophomore, a member of Ivy, active on a YWCA committee and Student Forum, and a participator in the productions of Duke Players. The members of the Queen's court as announced in the Chronicle were Betsy Day and Libby Smathers, Attendants, and Clara Flanagan, Lucy Wilson, Joan Albin, Sue Knappenberger, Ruth Metts, and Sally Forte, finalists.

Phi Eta Sigma, the scholastic honorary which recognizes students of high potentiality at the beginning of their college career, initiates as members all freshman men who have attained a 3.5 average for their first semester or their entire first year at Duke.

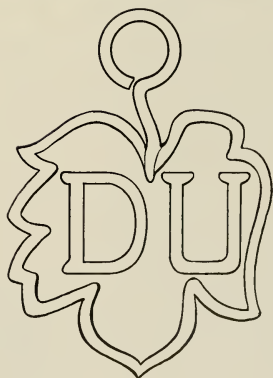

Throughout their sophomore year, these men attempt to aid and encourage others and to increase their membership by sponsoring a tutoring service for the new freshmen. In the spring, the chapter further emphasizes high scholarship by recognizing at a banquet all freshman men who have earned at least a "B" average. Dr. Barney L. Jones serves as sponsor of the honorary.

Ivy is a local sophomore scholastic honorary society. Members must have a 3.25 average either for the first semester or the entire first year at the Woman's College. The honorary was founded in 1937 by the class of 1940. Girls are inducted by a tapping ceremony at an awards assembly each semester. Activities throughout the year include sponsoring a dinner for all freshmen with a "B" average, supplying tutors voluntarily, marshalling at different Woman's College functions, and donating books of unusual content to the Woman's College Library. Since 1954, Miss Maxine Westphal, counselor of Bassett House, has been the advisor.

Tau Beta Pi, the engineering equivalent of Phi Beta Kappa, is a national honorary fraternity organized to give recognition to engineering students who are outstanding in scholarship and character. To qualify for membership, one must be either in the upper one-eighth of the junior class or the upper one-fifth of the senior class. The society does specialized projects for the College of Engineering and also presents an annual award to an outstanding freshman engineer. In the spring and fall, a joint initiation banquet is held with the North Carolina State chapter. Meetings are held bi-weekly.

The Order of Saint Patrick in the School of Engineering is an organization with the purpose of recognizing students who have shown a high standard of leadership and character in extra-curricular activities. To qualify for the honorary, one must be a junior or senior and participate in a minimum of three extra-curricular activities. Each semester a ceremony is held in which worthy students are tapped. After a brief pledgship, they become initiated into the fraternity. This year the monthly meetings of the Order were under the direction of President David Montgomery, Jr.

Pi Tau Sigma is an honorary fraternity for mechanical engineers. Members are selected from the top fourth of the junior class and the top third of the senior class on the basis of scholastic achievement, character, citizenship, and professional interest. Pi Tau Sigma endeavors to promote the professional welfare of its members and to foster the high ideals of the engineering field.

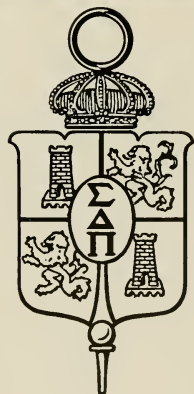

The Duke chapter has undertaken for the past two years the sponsorship of the Engineering-in-Training exam for the benefit of the seniors who desire an engineering license. Each spring the members take part in the Engineers' Show.

The objectives of Sigma Delta Pi, Duke University's Spanish honorary society, are three-fold: to create broader knowledge and deeper appreciation for Spanish contributions to culture, to promote better relations among the Spanish and English-speaking countries, and to recognize those who have demonstrated interest and special merit in Spanish studies. To qualify for membership, one must maintain a "B" average in all Spanish courses and an overall "B" average. The club sponsors an initiation banquet, Christmas fiesta, spring dinner, picnic, and dance; and gathers at meetings and lectures throughout the year.

Delta Phi Alpha is an honorary fraternity which recognizes those students who have maintained a "B" average through the third year of German. The Duke chapter is the Alpha chapter and has the largest membership of any of the national groups. The fraternity meets about six times a year in various places. If possible, the Carolina and Duke chapters meet together for dinner and an evening of fun at the Rathskeller. The purpose of the fraternity is to develop German culture and speech among the members. Only German is spoken at meetings.

DELTA PHI ALPHA

The purpose of Tau Psi Omega, French honorary society, is to stimulate interest in the French language and culture through conversations, lectures, open-houses, and moving pictures. Eligible for membership are those students who have a "B" average in French, an interest in French culture, and the ability to speak the language fluently. Among the highlights of the year were the presentation of the annual French play, an initiation dinner, and occasional meetings in Chapel Hill at the Rathskeller. Weekly dinner meetings were also held in the East Campus Union.

PI MU EPSILON

Pi Mu Epsilon, a national mathematics honorary fraternity, is open to students in the College of Engineering or students with majors in the departments of chemistry, mathematics, or physics. Its purpose is to promote scholarship and to stimulate interest in the field of mathematics. Prospective members must have an overall "B" average and a "B" average in all mathematics courses through integral calculus. Pi Mu Epsilon meets twice each year, at which time the fraternity initiates new members and sponsors speakers prominent in the mathematics field.

Delta Phi Rho Alpha recognizes those women of the Women's College who have actively participated in athletics, who have shown good sportsmanship, and who have encouraged athletics on the campus. The fraternity annually presents a gold "D" to the senior who has done the most to encourage school spirit and promote interest and participation in athletics on campus. Only rising juniors and seniors who have shown their skill in sports and sportsmanship are considered. Seven rising juniors and seniors are tapped at the spring awards assembly.

Alpha Kappa Psi is a national professional fraternity in the field of commerce and business administration. It endeavors to promote better faculty-student relations and to supplement a student's formal education through professional programs and research projects. To qualify for membership, a student must have declared his major in the business field and maintained a "C" average. The monthly dinner meetings feature guest speakers from business and industrial enterprises. Bi-monthly industrial tours and a spring formal pledge dance are among the highlighted activities of Alpha Kappa Psi.

The Varsity "D" Club honors those athletes who have won varsity letters and who are in good standing with the athletic department and the coaches. Under the sponsorship of Jim Bly, Albert Buhler, and Whit Cobb, the club has pursued its goal of co-ordinating athletics and promoting student interest in the sports program. Led by Bob Depuy, the club sponsored the Blue-White football and basketball games, visited local orphanages, presented films of games, and gave letters to those who had earned them following each respective season. After each bi-weekly meeting, the club members continued the custom of wearing letter sweaters the next day.

The Arnold Air Society is a nationally organized professional service honorary for advanced AFROTC cadets who plan to make their career in the Air Force. Qualifications for membership include the maintaining of an overall "C" average, demonstrating exceptional military leadership, and showing a great interest in the AFROTC unit and its objectives. The Military Ball and dinner meetings were among the social activities of the group this year. At the bi-monthly meetings, the chapter heard several interesting lecturers and discussed the Air Force program in its varied phases.

Kelly, E. Shank, T. Stapleford, J. Edwards. Third row: P. Luce, R. MacEwen, S. Young, W. Mewborne, C. Hutchison.

The Corsairs, the honorary for outstanding midshipmen in the NROTC, was founded here at Duke this year. The society had its first formal initiation in January and since that time has been active in promoting its program of nation-wide expansion. The purposes of the Corsairs are to recognize the outstanding midshipmen in the NROTC, to promote esprit de corps among the midshipmen of the Naval battalion, and to increase the interest in the Navy within the University Community. The Society's membership requirement depends upon an outstanding aptitude for Naval service.

MIKE TEMKO
IFC President

While continuing second semester rush this year, the Interfraternity Council worked towards improving first semester fraternity-freshman relations. Rush rules were improved over previous years and were strictly enforced. Plans were made for more exchange parties between the fraternities and sororities on campus. Greek Week rose in stature as the IFC organized the fraternities for a series of worthwhile and entertaining events. "Work day in Durham," a track meet for pledges, a dinner and dance, and the annual Interfraternity Sing composed this highly successful week. Under the able leadership of Mike Temko, the IFC worked for more harmony among the administration, the independents, and the Greek organizations.

Pan-Hellenic Council

The Pan-Hellenic Council is made up of two members from each of the thirteen sororities on East. As a representative of the National Pan-Hellenic organization, its main duty is to co-ordinate the sororities' work with the administration, the East Campus organizations, and West Campus.

This year was especially busy for Pan-Hel because of second semester rush. The rush rules, rushing procedures, and the rush evaluation program had to be revised. Among their other activities, the group planned a fashion show to raise scholarship money, published a sorority handbook, arranged active swaps, and sponsored an orphan.

Deferred
rush furnished a free fall of which we Alpha Chi's
took full advantage. Our social calendar got a rousing impetus from the visit of Mrs. Darrell Nordwall, the Alpha Chi who is president of National Pan-Hellenic. We feted her with an outdoor retreat and a reception.

One of the highlights of our fall activities was our Sadie Hawkins party. Later on, we had a slumber party in the gym; a cabin party with the Pi Phi's, Alpha Tau Omegas, Pi Kappa Phi's, and Theta Chi's; and a party with the Sigma Chi's to decorate our chapter room for a Christmas party.

Our chapter meeting programs included a talk by Miss North Carolina, a philosophical discussion and coffee hour with Art Brandenburg, and plans for a brand new Scottish Fling rush party. This year, we've been proud of our FAC's, Margaret, Frances and Annie, and our Judi Rep, Vee. Phyllis was the sweetheart of Phi Psi, and Polly made Phi Beta Kappa.

HENRI REED
President, Alpha Delta Pi

The start of a new year and here we are again in Alpha Delta Pi. Highlighting our fall semester were many get-togethers with our sisters and weekly formal meetings that fostered a loyalty greater than ever before. In November, a new pledge was taken into our Alpha Delta clan, Anne Parrott.

Other glimpses into winter activities saw the sisters working at the Cerebral Palsy Hospital on Saturdays, and the hailing of Alpha Delta Pi's CHANTILEER beauties, Betsy Day, Helen Arendell, and Ruth Metts. Christmas brought many parties among which was the one held with the Duke KA's for the Edgemont children.

With the new year came the excitement of rush and a successful pledge class that added even more sparkle to our group. As exam time rolled around, we said sad goodbyes to the seniors. But the tears were soon dried, for we looked forward to another marvelous year in Alpha Delta Pi.

CHARLENE NACHMAN
President, Alpha Epsilon Phi

"Let's make every day a 'Once a Year Day!'" resolved Alpha Epsilon Phi, last September.

In keeping with this plan, the girls enjoyed several open houses with fraternities from Duke and Carolina. Dinner at the Rathskeller was a highlight of the first semester, while the annual Pledge Dance was a Once a Year Night that neither pledges nor actives will soon forget.

Rush days were truly Once a Year Days, and the girls worked hard writing the skits. The Chinese party was a howling success, and the Hawaiian party provoked a few melancholy tears.

Social and traditional purposes were combined when AE Phi held its annual Founders' Day banquet at the Ranch House. AE-Phi also had their annual celebration of Friendship Week. There were many other Once a Year Days for A E Phi this year, too many to recount. All the sisters agreed that this year was a Once in a Lifetime Year for the sorority and for every A E Phi.

President, Alpha Phi

Returning in September, the Alpha Phi's plunged into a fun-filled year. The first surprise was winning the sorority scholarship cup. The semester began with a retreat to plan activities for the coming year, followed by a Founders' Day dinner and ceremony, a Halloween party, and a tea for the alums. Christmas found the Alpha Phi's caroling at the VA Hospital and partying at the home of Mrs. Busse, their chapter adviser. Also, after a Christmas dinner the Alpha Phi's and the Sigma Nu's played Santa Claus to a group of eager children.

Following a hectic rush period, Alpha Phi's were pleased to pledge a grand group of girls. Spring featured a pledge party, an April Fool's coffee, and a pledge dinner-dance. With the balmy weather came a cookout, another successful retreat, and the Joe College float. Culminating a wonderful year for the Alpha Phi's were a farewell party for seniors and a party at Myrtle Beach.

MISSY BOAZ
President, Delta Delta Delta

Tri Delta, led by President Missy Boaz, enjoyed another rewarding year.

How can we forget: the weiner roast at Duke Park, the cabin party in Chapel Hill, the listening-in-pizza parties on the afternoons of "away" football games, our Founders' Day banquet, and the caroling party with the Betas at Christmas. Remember: the mad "rush" of rushing and the fabulous pledge class that resulted, the pledge dance, the Tri Delta Fashion Show, and the fun of working on the Joe College Float. Meanwhile, Alpha Omicrons were seen in many campus activities: Liddy, President of WSGA and White Duchy; Jennie, Co-Editor of the CHANTICLEER; Polly, Co-Editor of the Archive; Lynne, Jennie, Carlese, and Liddy, Phi Kappa Delta; Jean and Jeanne, FAC's; Carlese and Shirley Jo, House Presidents; Betty, Sandals; and many others. With the annual Pansy Breakfast and graduation activities, Delta Delta Delta terminated a successful year. Remember?

KATHY RONSON
President, Delta Gamma

Filled with that DG spirit, Beta Theta returned to its newly decorated rooms in September. In October, the Delta Gammas had a Halloween party to which they wore fantastic costumes. In November, the DG's worked on the scent-garden at Camp Butner, a project coming under their national plan of aid for the blind. The DG Christmas Party had an unusual twist this year. The girls saw the "Star of Bethlehem" in Chapel Hill and afterwards had dinner at the Rathskeller.

January was study month, but the DG's did manage to prepare for rush parties. Delta Gamma pledged some wonderful girls and honored their little sisters at a pledge banquet and the traditional pledge dance. Later, the DG's had their Founders' Day banquet, and in April, they worked on their Joe College float. In May, at the senior banquet, they said farewells to their graduating sisters and looked back upon another fabulous year at Duke with Beta Theta of Delta Gamma.

With president McFaddin in the lead, Theta began the year. Fairgrievies kept the social calendar filled with Rathskeller pizza dinners, a cabin party with dates, Edgemont activities with Betas, SAE's and Zebees, slumber parties, and active swaps. Duke's beauty sections were enhanced by Homecoming attendants, Black, Goebel, and Faulkner and CHANTICLEER finalists, Grandt and Welther. Around Christmas, Theta entertained the old folks' home and indulged in caroling. Welcomed into Beta Rho were initiates Cantey, Tyson, and Welther. Rush arrived and was climaxed by the '58 pledge class. Gregory and Simmons rejoiced. Then came the Golden Triad, work on our hospital project, Joe College and the float, a national officer's visit, and senior farewells. Theta will miss Alston's and Armentrout's candid sayings, Laura's soft shoe attempts, Wright's knitting needles, Miller's English accent, and McKee's dimples.

BETSY HUGGIN
President, Kappa Delta

The Kappa Deltas returned last September all ready to go, and go they did, first observing Founder's Day with steak dinners at Hartman's, then dinners upstairs in the union and coffees after meetings. Parties with the Kappa Sigmas and Pi Kappa Phis for children from Edgemont added to Christmas spirit, and after exams came the pledge banquet and formal pledge dance during White Rose Week. Our traditional slumber and beach parties rounded out the spring season.

In spite of the social whirl, Mervin Carlyle, Anna French, and Kay Hale became new Phi Betes. And we had our share of BWOC's too; three Phi Kappa Deltas, a White Duchy, four dormitory presidents, and seven members of WSGA Council. Also; three members of Y Cabinet, two on Homecoming Court, seven FAC's, four Who's Who, plus the Chairman of the FAC's and the Co-ordinate Board Chairman.

Looks like another great year for the KD's, with a bright future ahead in '58-59!

through Delta
Beta's 1957-58

keyhole brings back memories of a happy year for the Kappas. A big-little sister pizza party started the season off, followed by a French Apache party, complete with KKG berets and garters as favors. Along with the ATO's, we entertained the Edgemont children at our Thanksgiving party. Hour exams, a spaghetti dinner with the alums, and a Christmas party brought us to Christmas vacation.

After rush, we had a party for our pledges. In March, we joined the Phi Phis and Thetas for the Golden Triad.

On Mother - Daughter week end, we entertained our mothers at a breakfast. Hard work, laughs, and slight confusion reigned when we built our Joe College float. Our tribute to the seniors at the senior banquet made us realize that another Kappa year was almost over; and after a week at the beach, we turned the key in the keyhole for another year and then went on our way for the summer.

September came at last this year and brought us back together here. We started classes right away and studied hard most every day. But parties make the world go round, or so at least the Phi Mu's found. An actives' swap that Pan - Hel planned with Greeks from West was really grand. The day that Duke was beaten by Tech, we Phi Mu's listened to the wreck, as we made things for winter rush and ate pizza instead of mush.

Our room was changed in every way and is now looking very gay. Of greens and browns, the color scheme just blends together like a dream.

Our social work throughout the year was planned to give the old folks cheer.

When rushing time came rolling round, our actives Phi Mu pledges found. As Phi Mu's gave them Frenchy caps, the fates filled in some rosy maps. The pledge dance came and with it too, new sister members in Phi Mu. This Phi Mu year brought all good things, and so let's see what the next year brings.

President, Pi Beta Phi

The Pi Phi's returned to school to plunged into their activities enthusiastically. Our chapter's 25th anniversary was celebrated by a gala pledge banquet at Hope Valley, honoring the founding of North Carolina Beta. First semester included several fraternity swaps, a cabin party with the Thetas, informal coffees with other sororities, and our Christmas party for the Edgemont children, sponsored with the Betas.

Second semester was highlighted by the Golden Triad, our initiation banquet, and our senior banquet. As a project we continued our survey for the Durham County Cancer Organization.

Individual Pi Phi's had an active year too; Marty Ellis, Social Standards Chairman; Muriel Hendrix, Pep Board Chairman; Judy Heckroth, President of Sandals; Diana Risien, President of Nereidian; Patsy Lee, NSA Co-ordinator. Nancy Rodhouse was Homecoming Queen and one of our six FAC's. Our year ended with a fling at Myrtle Beach.

The Sigma Kappas had another wonderful year full of memories . . .

the first get-together coffee . . . Kay's flying visit topped with a pizza party . . . Founder's Day . . . those rush workshops in the fall with music, chatter, and work by all in preparation for second semester rushing . . . the night the Marlboros came and went, mostly Gilbert way . . . the shrieks of laughter at the silly costumes for the Mardi Gras party: I dreamed I was a Duke University graduate in . . . the carol sing at the Methodist Retirement Home . . . preparing gifts for the Maine Seacoast Mission . . . the Christmas party for the children from Edgemont Community Center . . . the sport of inter-sorority tournaments . . . the hurly-burly of rush . . . the pledge dance and initiation ceremony . . . more pizza parties and coffees during second semester . . . spring picnics . . . and plans for a whirl at the end-of-the-year beach party. Yes, it was a gay and happy year, seasoned with studying, for the girls with that Sigma Kappa pep.

HOLLY JONES
President, Zeta Tau Alpha

Back at school once again, Zetas gathered for Monday night coffees to chat and plan those activities which kept us busy all fall; they included a slumber party, our annual "beansteak" dinner, and a white elephant sale. The pre-Christmas whirl found us hurriedly making "octopi" for sorority gifts and planning joint parties with campus fraternities, including one for orphans in the Durham area. After the exciting weeks of rush and pledging, we proudly presented our pledges at a dinner-dance early in the spring. Then the senior banquet and—graduation!

We are proud of those who represent Zeta Tau Alpha on Duke campus: Holly Jones—our president, Bess Hart and Dot McCall—dorm presidents, Bobbie Herb—our CHANTICLEER beauty, Joanne Snow—homecoming attendant, Jo Moore—Co-ed Editor of the CHANTICLEER, Margaret Stennis and Julie Bay—Judicial Representatives, and Libby Davis, Bobbie Otstot, Joanne Snow, and Nancy Schlag—FAC's.

The ATO's serenade in the Duke gardens.

It all started in a hurry.

Even before the fall semester began.

ATO's were back to support the Y-FAC program; then the rest of the large brotherhood returned; and within a few days everyone was pitching in on the Homecoming display, "The Legend of Wyatt Terp," and anticipating a full season of social activities. This was not far behind. There was "Chez Joey" for returning alumni, a joint party with Carolina ATO's, open houses, and an elaborate "Christmas in Sherwood Forest."

As soon as an intramural sport was announced, ATO jerseys appeared in the gym area while other brothers worked out with Varsity teams. Around the campus several organizations were rolling behind brothers, Mewborne, Young, Grant, and Sims.

Throughout the year fraternity spirit stayed high—grades dropped only a little—and behind President Bob Johnson, ATO topped off an active spring semester with the annual sweetheart ball at Myrtle Beach. Another ATO year ends.

The Betas play Santa Claus at Christmas to needy children.
Warm weather brings a casual air to the Beta section.

Returning, after a summer of various and sundry activities, the Betas rolled ahead to another successful year under the direction of Richard Burton. As a social fraternity, emphasis was again placed on social events: open houses, cabin brawls, the Baltimore Binge, Jack's, parties with the Pi Phi's, Theta's, and ADPi's, Spring romps to the rock, and the unforgettable Spring Formal. All these and more unmentionables proved the Beta's superiority in the field of social entertainment.

For the rest of the time, Gamma Rho enthusiastically participated in scholastic and extracurricular pursuits. These pursuits were well worth the effort, for our scholastic average was more than respectable, and many of the brothers found positions of campus prestige. Beta athletes displayed their talents on the varsity baseball, tennis, swimming, and golf teams. In summing up this school year, our last year in old House H, the Betas say: "Ain't sharp enough!"

Delta Sigma Phi, led by president Seth Cox, once again enjoyed an extremely successful year. The year was started with a varied list of social activities including cabin parties, open houses, banquets, old-fashioned barn dances with hay and all the trimmings, and the traditional Carnation Ball in Winston-Salem. At Homecoming we worked hard on the display in anticipation of greeting the returning Delta Sig alumni. Our rush season culminated with a banquet at the Saddle Club and a Black 'n' White pledge dance.

During rush season we suffered quite a loss with the tragic death of our social chairman, Bob Kramer. The absence of such a wonderful person was felt not only by the fraternity but also by all who knew him.

In the spring, a host of fine neophytes were added to the chapter roster. Cabin parties and beach parties, along with the Joe College parade and celebrations, highlighted the second semester. With the close of this year, we look forward to another banner year in 1958-59.

Charlie Brown gives instructions at a football open house.
Delt's revert back to the Roaring Twenties.

As another year ends for the Duke Delts, we stop for a moment to glance back at the year just past. We remember the re-orientation to the misty, stale air of Durham, high hopes for the Blue Devil football team, and our annual open house for the Hanes Nurses. We like to think of the social life of the fraternity, but we must recall other things that happened during the year.

We remember the roaring twenties party . . . a Christmas dance at the Washington Duke . . . brothers being initiated into Phi Beta and other honoraries . . . even rush parties (enjoyable, yet unusual). Then early into 1958 we planned a celebration for the Delta Tau Delta 100th Anniversary.

Spring came . . . we pledged an outstanding group of Freshmen . . . spent afternoons at Turnage's . . . went to the beach . . . drank "big oranges" at Joe College . . . and, as a climax, our annual Rainbow Ball.

Now, as we look back we can say, "Well, the Delts have done it again." . . .

Ellen Eagle, Kappa Alpha Rose, rides in the Old South parade.

September brought football, open houses, parties and rain. Inspired by Hankins and Lockhart, the KA's soared to new heights, both as a fraternity and as individuals.

"Clyde Beatty" Caldwell finally made the "varsity" with a third round dunking of "Tiger" Webster. Noted Hungarian explorer Umbard Phillips made progress on his new book, Turkey Farms After Two.

Shoe 'n' Slipper week end found the brothers at Johnny's for the surprise party of the semester. A joint party with the ADP's for the Edgemont children preceded the extremely cold and "wet" Christmas holidays.

A visit by the well known stunt driver "Soaring Starnes" highlighted the beginning of the second semester. Rushing began, and General Lee himself couldn't have gotten a better pledge class. Eno parties provided that essential ingredient necessary for balance between work and play. The traditional Old South Ball climaxed another successful year for Kappa Alpha.

The Lambda Chi's make another touchdown play at the Schlitz Bowl.
Big Bill serves refreshments at an open house during rush.

The Lambda Chi's of Duke returned to school in the fall ready to enjoy the rounds of parties, football week ends, intramurals, and studies that are Duke. The Eno echoed once again with the cries of brothers at a beer party. The golf team captured the division title. The fraternity finally got a PBK long after the regular football season had ended, Kenan Stadium in Chapel Hill witnessed still another great football classic, the annual Schlitz Bowl. The Lambda Chi's of Duke romped to victory over the Lambda Chi's of UNC, 24-0. The Christmas formal at the Carolina Inn provided a fitting end to the first semester.

The second semester saw the completion of the new chapter room just in time for rush. When rush had ended, Lambda had a group of outstanding pledges. To complete the year were spring vacation in Florida, Inter-Zeta Dance at Myrtle Beach, Saturday afternoons at Hogan's Lake, Joe College week end and its parties, Spring formal, and beach parties.

September brought the Phi's back to Duke. There had been some noticeable changes over the summer: Grover expanded . . . Morgan found two loves . . . Cozart, Spence, and Dupler transferred to Hanes House. Some things were the same . . . the I.M. football team kept winning . . . Carroll was back . . . but mostly things were different: Chittum got a card . . . the golfers won in the dark . . . Jack and Powell each got us a trophy . . . Williams had a date . . . Lindsay left . . . Gump got pinned . . . Holt became a chow-man . . . Jerry lost the ugly-man contest . . . Reese got a pin for pony tails . . . and Blackburn became chief bugler.

February saw the Phi's pull in another outstanding pledge class. Fall semester scholastic averages were out and the Phi's made a big jump toward the top. More parties, Joe College, and beach week ends rounded out the second semester social program. Many good Phi's will be graduating this year, but their places will be filled by new crewmen.

The athletes of Phi Kappa Psi show off.
The Phi Psi's enjoy a fall cabin party.

Another year of outstanding fraternal activity was experienced by the Phi Psi's during 1957-58.

Moving into an even more prominent place on the Duke campus, the Brotherhood again exhibited its well-rounded campus life by contributing men to Phi Beta Kappa, varsity soccer and wrestling, intramurals, WDBS, Who's Who, Pre-Med Society, and many campus honoraries. Under the excellent leadership of Brother Tom Ferrall, MSGA felt a great improvement.

The fall football afternoons were filled with cabin parties and open houses, and sweater dances helped warm the cooler winter week ends. In the Spring our social calendar featured the Jacqueminot Rose Ball.

Second semester began with the usual good pledge class. Soon campus politics engulfed the brothers, and Ferrall returned to the air with Merriam to the joy (and dismay) of many Duke students. More social life topped off by Joe College and beach trips helped to draw the year to a close.

The Phi Kap's entertain their dates in the section.
Homecoming week end approaches as the Phi Kap's paint their display.

Ol' Skull 'n' Bones was lifted from his casket as Phi Kaps swarmed back to campus in September. Returning to school, parley sheets, Chronicles, MSGA, WDBS, and quad ball . . . the brothers never forgot that the primary objective of a social fraternity is fun. "Black and Gold" at the Washington Duke Hotel highlighted the fall semester social program, just a sample of the larger one in the Spring. As Christmas approached, thoughts could hardly help drifting back. Memories of Ketterer losing his door . . . Luce losing an ink fight . . . King getting pinned . . . Bullock trying to sell the victory bell for $5. But with the new semester, Phi Kaps looked ahead to love, rushing, Joe College, rushing, Spring Black and Gold, rushing, the Birdmen, rushing, exams, and of course, rushing. The semester was highly productive, with a top-notch pledge class getting it off to a good beginning.

The basketball team won its division, and pledge raids kept things jumping. June brought to an end another memory filled Phi Kap year.

The PiKAs steam up for Joe College.
The Snowball formal is a big success.

With the completion of the new dormitory in February, Pi Kappa Alpha came into possession of one of the most modern and attractive sections on campus. Under the guidance of Dave Nealy and Heath Valentine, the lodge enjoyed a most successful year.

The social calendar included the annual Christmas Snowball Dance and our combined beach party and Dream Girl Week End.

The "Fat Man" contest was settled with our boy Beef edging Cappy by a belt-notch. General Clark kept the section's only Confederate flag in good shape, while "D.I." Beane adjusted the second floor's T.V. Nealy pledged Phi Beta, but Scholar of the Year honors went to Zender. Bos led the songs, and the other Tony joined the cheerleading squad. Gordy and Jed are planning for another go next year. We welcomed back Wally and "El Blanco."

With social, rushing, intramurals, finals, and day-to-day life at the University brought to an end in June, the chapter looks back upon a year of accomplishment.

A beach week end highlights the spring for the Pi Kappa Phi's.

President Dave Quattlebaum led Pi Kappa Phi to another successful and enjoyable year. We won't forget the football week ends and the open houses afterward, especially the State game and an evening in Raleigh. The Tech game and the parties in Atlanta, the 1957 Rose Ball at the Washington Duke Hotel, and the Christmas Dance that sent us home and then to Miami for the Orange Bowl with its endless round of parties. A very successful rush period followed finals and resulted in an excellent pledge class. In February, the new dormitory was completed and we moved into a beautiful new section. Of course, there were several parties to celebrate the opening.

Once the rains stopped, the annual spring cabin parties began, mixed with pledging and the Pledge Formal. Then we packed up and left for the Holiday Inn at Myrtle Beach with our brothers from Davidson College for a long week end at the beach, providing a grand finale for another great Pi Kap year.

Spring comes, and the SAE's take over Bailey's.

While Leo II stood gallantly in front of the section as a lone sentinel of SAE spirit, the brothers of Sigma Alpha Epsilon passed the year in a diversified manner. The fall week ends were climaxed by the combos and the visiting of old brothers.

The annual Christmas party at Wright's Refuge was held with great success with the Theta's. It was contrasted by the many parties at the "Club," cabin parties, dances, and trips to Jack's and the Patio.

Second semester started with a successful rush program. With the coming of Spring, the brothers migrated to the beach and frequented O'Brian's cabin with their new pledge class. Enjoyment was had by all.

The SAE's participated extensively in all intramural sports and inter-fraternity competition. Besides intramurals, the SAE's had many varsity players, especially on the soccer and lacrosse teams. All-in-all, it was a very successful year for SAE. Many brothers graduated and their shoes were filled by the incoming class, while Leo continued his vigil.

Led by president Steve Cribfield, the Sigs began the year with a flurry of social events, highlighted by the dinner-dance given in honor of our sweetheart, Lynette Jackson.

As usual, the biggest social event on any Sigma Chi calendar is the Sweetheart Dance, which this year was held at the Sedgefield Inn in Greensboro. In the Spring many brothers migrated to the beaches.

The Sigs were dominant on the athletic fields, represented in football, basketball, track, cross country, wrestling, lacrosse, and baseball. In campus organizations Sigma Chi was well represented with brothers holding offices in MSGA, Judicial Board, Publications, Honoraries, WDBS, and NROTC.

Scholastically, Sigma Chi enjoyed another good year, winning the Improvement trophy from the national fraternity for the third straight year.

It can be said that the Sigma Chi's of Duke have, as always, participated actively in many campus activities.

The Sig Eps entertain in a French atmosphere.

Fall finds the Sig Eps and dates roasting hotdogs in the woods at a cabin party.

In September, 1957, the returning brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon launched the new school year with a new spirit of unity, confidence, and brotherhood, which resulted in a great year of social and academic achievement for the "Fraternity with a heart."

Honors this year were the interfraternity trophies for highest scholastic achievement on campus and greatest improvement in scholarship, and our National District Governor's Chapter Improvement Trophy.

The social calendar included original and unusual events. Confederate money and the "Casino" party started off a winning schedule, followed by the "1984" party. The best of the later parties was the wiener roast and hay ride, or "Hayseed" party with all the trimmings.

The Spring calendar, among other things, found the Sig Eps in Charlotte for the Sig Ep Ball and the annual Charlie's Day held at the U.N.C. house.

We will long remember all the many things that made this year a great one for Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The TEPs triumph in football.

The TEPs go all out entertaining their guests at an open house.

Returning to the Queen of Shopping Land in the fall, the brothers of Tau Epsilon Phi plunged into the new semester. Cabin parties, open houses, and dinner-dances were held at various locations. It seems that the TEP men did not neglect their studies entirely, since the fraternity possessed one of the top scholastic averages on West. The athletic teams enjoyed a successful year. The football squad, led by the passing arm of Mike Korotkin, established a new single game intramural scoring record. As usual the basketball team found itself with many victories to its credit.

TEPs participated in many campus organizations, holding class offices, high IFC posts, important ROTC positions, and were especially active in dramatic and publication groups. Under the leadership of Dave Lyman, Tau Epsilon Phi has made great progress and is now advancing to still further heights.

The Brothers of Theta Chi work hard on their homecoming display . . . and get results.

This year the September monsoons met a "spirited" Theta Chi defense. The brothers and their dates survived the rain, mud, and umbrellas of Duke football to get back to the relative comfort of their section parties. To escape rain, regulation, and retaliation, we went en masse to Georgia Tech, N. C. State, and Navy. Section parties, a new thing at Duke, filled out an active social program of cabin parties, barn dances, and—the highlight of the semester—a suppressed desires party.

Rush was quite successful this year, as Theta Chi pledged a fine group of freshmen. Socially, second semester brought another full calendar highlighted by the Dream Girl Dance, beach parties, and the regional Mason-Dixon Jubilee at UVA. These kept the brothers in good form, supplemented, of course, by frequent trips to Jack's and the Chili House. Led by Mike Roberts and Linton Brooks, the Theta Chi's completed another successful and eventful year.

The Zebes wind up Homecoming with a dance.
Nothing like a private combo!

The brothers of Zeta Beta Tau returned to Duke and, before you could raise an umbrella we were once again in complete control of the situation.

With two Phi Bete's, the presidents of the Interfraternity Council and the Shoe 'n' Slipper Club, Duke's head cheerleader, and three listings in Who's Who, we were well represented in campus activities. And then there were numerous open houses and cabin parties, the Homecoming blast at the Washington Duke Hotel, a Christmas party for the Edgemont children, and the fabulous May affair. Intramural sports saw many good ZBT teams win more than their share of games.

Spring brought the ZBT's a great pledge class and a new and bigger section in which to house them.

With Spring vacation many of the brothers took off for sunny Florida and returned in time for the Joe College festivities.

And so the school year ended—good boys were graduated, good boys were initiated. But fraternalism continues.

OVERPOWERS SOUTH CAROLINA

A revenge-minded bunch of Blue Devils scored two fourth period touchdowns to turn back a stubborn South Carolina team, 26-14, in a night game in Columbia, S. C., to open up the season.

The Blue Devils scored their first touchdown of the year to knot the score at 7-7 on Pryor Millner's quarterback sneak and Art Eberdt's conversion. Bert Lattimore fell on a Gamecock fumble to set up the tally. George Dutrow broke the deadlock in the third period, sweeping end seven yards for the score.

In the fourth quarter, the Devils rang up two more TDs to wrap up the game. A fifty-one yard march was climaxed by Bob Brodhead's sneak, and Duke took a two touchdown lead. Later in the period, half-back Wray Carlton streaked thirteen yards for the final points.

Wray Carlton broke loose for twenty-six points in a 40-0 rout of Virginia to highlight the first home game of the year. The powerful halfback made nineteen points in seven minutes, forty seconds of the second quarter and added seven more in the third period.

After battling through a scoreless first quarter, it was all Duke. Carlton went over from five yards to start the deluge. Brodhead snatched a Virginia pass and moments later Carlton tore off nineteen yards to score, aided by a crushing block by Hal McElhane. Big Wray made it 19-0 a few minutes later on an eleven yard gallop to end any semblance of a contest.

Brodhead passed for two yards to Carlton in the end zone early in the third period for a 26-0 lead. Fullback Jim Harris from three yards out and soph back Bunny Bell from one yard smashed across for the last markers.

In this, Duke's fifth victory of the season, the first team played a little over one quarter. Pryor Millner scored the first touchdown in the first quarter, climaxing a thirty-five yard march. On the first play of the second period, a pass from Wray Carlton to George Dutrow made it 14-0.

Touchdowns came quickly after that. Dave Hurm grabbed a Brodhead pass for one, Danny Lee, soph halfback, hit for another from a yard out, and another soph, Bunny Bell, made his first varsity TD. Wake Forest scored thirty-five seconds from the end and only crossed midfield once all afternoon.

In the second period a fifty-seven yard pass play from Brodhead to end Bill Thompson gave a real boost to Duke, 14-0. Student spirit and cheering prevailed over the driving rain as the Blue Devils beat down Clemson's tough Tigers for the invitation to the Orange Bowl, 7-6, in the mud.

A second quarter march of eighty-two yards in nine plays was climaxed by a scoring pass from Bob Brodhead to Wray Carlton, who was all alone in the end zone. Wray made it 7-0 as he split the uprights with his conversion attempt for the eventual margin of victory.

Clemson's hard-driving runners kept the home forces on the defensive the rest of the afternoon, getting inside the Duke thirty yard line seven times. The persistent Tigers hit paydirt when Bob Spooner blasted over with nine minutes left, but soph quarterback Harvey White missed the conversion.

The Blue Devils ended their 1957 season painfully, losing to Carolina for the first time in eight years, 21-13.

After Wray Carlton scored twice, capping the opening seventy-five yard drive and again in the second quarter for a 13-0 lead, the Devils became over confident and relaxed. By halftime Duke led, but only by 13-7.

Then in the third quarter Carolina pushed across two touchdowns to go in front, 21-13. Each time, a Duke fumble on Devils' soil gave the pigskin to the inspired Tarheels. Quarterback Jack Cummings sneaked over from the one for the second UNC score and passed to end Buddy Payne for the other. Phil Blazer converted after each touchdown. The 70° heat was a little hard on those hangovers, but other than that the day was perfect. Every one had come to see Duke whip the vaunted Oklahoma football machine.

For three quarters it looked like it could happen.

Duke rolled in the opening period, pushing back the Sooners time and again, but an errant pass dropped into the hands of the Sooners' Dave Baker. He went 94 yards for a touchdown.

In the second period, a bad pass from center set up another Oklahoma score, but the Devils came right back, marching 65 yards to send Hal McElhaney over and the score stood at 14-7. A long punt return put the Okies in position for six more points. Again Duke came back, this time on an 85-yard drive, with George Dutrow going over, 21-14. Then came the last quarter. Within the short space of 3 minutes and 23 seconds, the sky clouded, the rain fell, and Duke was washed away. Two fumbles and a blocked punt set up the slaughter. Shovel passes and short passes down the middle accounted for the scores, 41-14. A 70-yard march, Mac went over again, a four-yard smash, 41-21. Then, an interception and a lateral pass were good for 73 yards and the story was written. First downs: Duke 14, Oklahoma 11. Rushing: Duke 231, Oklahoma 165. Passing: Duke 97, Oklahoma 114. Passes: Duke 8-13, Oklahoma 9-18. Interceptions: Duke 3, Oklahoma 2. Fumbles: Duke 2, Oklahoma 1. Score: Duke 21, Oklahoma 48. But long after the score is forgotten, the pageantry will be remembered: the parade, the parties, the halftime show; all combined for a wonderful time.

Jim Newcome hits for two against Villanova.

Duke's "Flaming Five," seniors Jim Newcome, Bucky Allen, Bob Vernon, Paul Schmidt, and Bobby Joe Harris led Duke to victory in regular season ACC play, and finished the year with an outstanding 18-7 overall record.

It took ten games for the "Flaming Five" to develop, but when they did, they were one of the best teams in the nation. In those first ten games of the season, coach Hal Bradley and his new assistant, former Duke player Fred Schabel, experimented with almost every conceivable lineup possible with Duke's manpower. The result was five wins and five losses.

Newcome gets an assist as he scores from underneath.

Paul Schmidt buckets his specialty.

Big Hayes floats down with a rebound.

Duke opened by dropping a 78-74 thriller to Kentucky on the Wildcats' floor. Then came wins over Clemson and Villanova, and losses to South Carolina and Pitt. In the Dixie Classic, Duke beat Seton Hall, lost to UNC, and whipped Wake Forest for third place. A win over NYU was followed by a crushing 74-49 defeat by Maryland.

Then came the transformation. Deciding to go with his three little men, Bradley guided his team to 13 wins in the last 15 games. The kickoff was a heart-shaking 76-75 double-overtime conquest of State. West Virginia, ranked number one in the nation at that time, was the next victim, falling by a 72-68 score. Virginia, Wake Forest, South Carolina, and Clemson followed. Then, in a space of four days, Duke walloped UNC and State on their home courts, by scores of 91-75 and 65-48. Victories over Wake Forest, Navy, and Maryland came next. With Allen sick, Virginia snapped the winning streak at 11, by a 70-68 triple-overtime win. A 59-46 crush of UNC in the last regularly-scheduled game gave Duke the ACC championship in season play. In the tournament, Duke whipped Wake Forest, for the fourth time, before losing to Maryland. Newcome led the scoring with a 13.2 average, followed by Allen, 12.4, Vernon, 12.3, Schmidt, 11.8, and Harris, 10.6. Top reserve strength came from Clement, Robertson, Boyd, and Bateman. The "Flaming Five" all graduated, but good reserves will fill their places next year.

Newe shoots and is almost clobbered.

Outfielders Sime, Blaney, Maynard, and Domhoff.

The ACC champ gets another base hit.

Five .300 hitters, five All-ACC players, and three five-game winners led Duke to a successful defense of its ACC baseball crown and a runner-up slot in the District 3 NCAA playoffs.

Outfielder Dave Sime, a second string All-American, led the ACC in batting with a .376 mark. Shortstop Lon Bonzeck followed with a .370 average. Outfielder Pete Maynard was fifth at .352, first-baseman George Atkinson was tenth with .328, and third-baseman Andy Cockrell was eleventh with .318.

All these players, with the exception of Atkinson, made All-ACC. The other honored man was ace lefty Dick Smallwood, who had a 6-5 record, with a 2.97 ERA. Dick Burton was 6-1, with a 2.00 ERA, and Harleigh Fatzinger was 5-1 with a 3.85 ERA.

The other starters on the Duke team, which posted a 10-4 mark in the conference, and was 19-8 overall, were: second - baseman George Hoover, center - fielder Bunny Blaney, and catchers Bob Weitzman and Steve Carihfield.

ON THE CI

With Dave Sime missing all the dual meets, the Duke track team couldn't match its unbeaten record of the previous year, but, nevertheless, the thinclads showed promise of fielding one of the most powerful teams in the nation in '58.

Losing to UNC, Maryland, and Navy, Duke defeated South Carolina and State. The Blue Devils finished third in both ACC indoor and outdoor meets. They placed fourth in the Carolinas AAU meet and Bouncing back from their worst season in history, coach Jack Person's Duke lacrosse team won two games while losing seven during the 1957 schedule.

Duke victories were registered over Williams, by a 6-2 score, and Colgate, by a 5-3 margin. Losses were suffered at the hands of Virginia, RPI, Navy, W & L, Maryland, Army, and Hofstra.

College lacrosse teams are divided into three divisions, and points are given on a basis of how a team does against teams of its own and other divisions. Under this system the Duke stickmen finished among the top ten clubs in the nation.

Outstanding players for Duke included Jack Smith, Bill Richardson, Ross Ripple, Wilson Davis, Jack Roberts, Wade Byrd, Doug Padgett, Skip Hearn, Bill Miller, Al Masius, Bruce Miller, Bob Millhauser, Hayes Clement, and Ed Berger.

The 1958 season was expected to be another tough one for the squad. A top-notch schedule, including Johns Hopkins and Maryland, the perennial lacrosse powers, has been lined up.

With a large number of veterans returning, plus some good freshmen, Duke should continue to improve.

Captain Ed Gauld, top scorer in the ACC.

SOCCKER

Led by senior captain Ed Gauld, who led the conference in scoring, the Duke soccer team finished the season with a 3-3-2 record.

Gauld booted in 12 markers in eight games to easily pace the league.

The scrappy center-forward got Duke off on the right track in the opening game, booting in three goals in a 4-1 win over Davidson. The results of the other games were: a 2-2 tie with Roanoke, a 1-0 loss to UVA, a 2-0 victory over State, a 2-1 defeat at the hands of W & L, a 4-1 win over VMI, a 3-1 loss to Maryland, and a 5-5 tie with UNC.

Other starters besides Gauld were Gordie Lang, John D'Angelo, Dave Kridler, Jim Mathews, Ralph Hines, Jim Matsen, Gunner Schull, Bruce Connor, John Stacey, and Gary Power.

CROSS COUNTRY

Depending on an inexperienced crew of sophomores, the Duke cross-country team posted a 2-4 record, and finished fifth in the conference.

Cary Weisiger, who promises to become one of the best runners that Duke has ever had, paced the team. The slim sophomore broke the Duke record on several occasions.

Duke beat Davidson and Richmond, lost to State, finished second in two triangular, and third in another triangular meet.

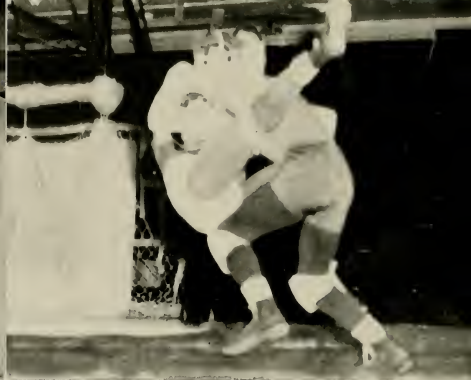

Besides Weisiger, Duke's sophs were Bill Van Every, Tom Maloof, Tom Menaker, Tom Bazemore, Bill Schaaf, Fred Hurd, Malcome Shields, and Dick Anderson.

Rick Carr, in the 123 lb. class, takes down Hardin of Washington and Lee College for two points during a dual wrestling meet.

WRESTLING

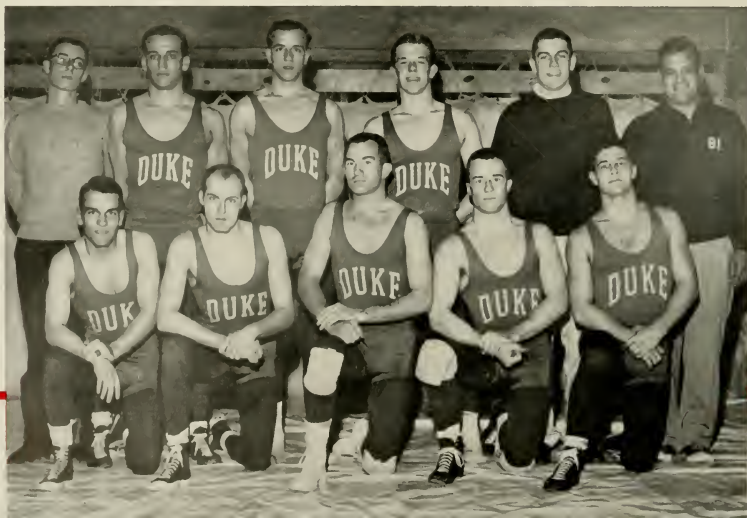

Hampered by injuries and a small squad, the Duke wrestling team ended the year with a 3-3 record and a fourth place finish in the conference meet.

Victories came over Wake Forest, W & L, and N. C. State, while losses were handed to the Devil matmen by Virginia, UNC, and Maryland, the teams that occupied the top positions in the ACC standings.

Sophomore star Ken Labone and senior co-captain Sam Meneffee met with the greatest amount of success during the season. Both lost only one match. Heavy-weight Larry Speer, although handicapped by inexperience, also lost only one match. Senior co-captain Sam Meneffee was not up to par because of an injury suffered early in the year. Other regulars were Rick Carr, Ronnie Davidson, Ed Kaufman, Roger Kempler, Amos Kearns, Jim Girand, Mike McGhee, and Bud Martin. A more experienced team next year should mean a good season.

Perfect form is the most important part in diving.

SWIMMING

Dropping two of their first four matches, the Duke swimming team finished very strong, sweeping their last seven meets for a fine 9-2 record, which placed them second in the ACC. Duke lost to UNC and Navy, while defeating Clemson, Rutgers, Georgia Tech, South Carolina, Wake Forest, N. C. State, Citadel, Maryland, and Virginia.

The leading scorers for the team, which finished second in the ACC individual meet as well, were Emmett Pace, Ken Whitney, Gary Dickinson, Bob DePuy, Ed Elsey, Steve Hough, Bill Byrne, Bob Weaver, Bruce Soule, Guy Langer, Jim Picken, Steve Young, Howard Fisher, and Rick Morgan.

TENNIS

Hampered by inexperience, the '57 Duke tennis team had to be satisfied with a 7-10 record. However, when one considers the tough schedule through which the netters had to travel, the record doesn't look bad. Four losses came from powerhouses Harvard and Miami, while UNC, Maryland, Presbyterian, Florida, and Rollins, all top schools, also turned back Duke. Wins were notched over Wake Forest, Davidson, Cincinnati, George Washington, State, Florida State, and South Carolina.

Leif Beck, who teamed with Don Romhilt, copped the ACC doubles title. A strong freshmen team, plus the returning veterans, should enable Duke tennis fortunes to rise in 1958.

GOLF

Playing their last season on the Hope Valley course, the Duke golf team posted an 8-5 record in season play and then finished fourth in the ACC tournament, trailing the three teams that had beaten them in conference play.

With only three lettermen returning from the '56 team, Duke was strengthened by the fine play of six sophomores. Captain Bill Beeson and Ward King will be missing from this year's team, but returning will be the sophomores: Hugh Paterson, Dick Siderowf, Jack Benson, Tate Lanning, Sandy Hinkle, and Dick George.

In tournament play, Siderowf placed in a tie for eleventh, while Benson, King, and Hinkle filled up the last three places among the point-getters.

INTRAMURALS

With senior Tom Walkley directing the program, intramural athletic competition continued to play a major part in the life of the Duke campus.

Participation in the thirteen sports played once more surpassed that of the past year. No more proof of the success of the program could be asked than this.

The Sigma Chi's won the high point trophy for '56-'57, nosing out the Betas. The individual honors went to Warren Hagen for the second straight year. Claude Grigg ran Hagen a close second.

In fall '57 sports, the Divinity school won the football finals over the Phi Delt, who were defending champs. The Betas won the basketball league.

WAA BOARD

The Woman's Athletic Association Board organizes the athletic program of the Woman's College and encourages students to participate in the events of their choice. An elected executive council, dormitory and Hanes House representatives, and the heads of the various sports and clubs compose the Board. Its major functions are scheduling dormitory, sorority, and individual tournaments, and holding Friday night co-recreational open houses. The decoration of the main lounge of the clubhouse on the Duke University golf course was the chief project of the Board this year. Following its annual tradition, WAA again sponsored a picnic during Freshman Week to introduce the new students to the physical education department. The Board is also in charge of the entertainment for the spring picnic with the Navy band.

NEREIDIAN

The Nereidian Club, under the leadership of Diana Risien, presented its annual water ballet on December 5 and December 7. A selection of new members by the method of competitive tryouts took place in October. The girls worked hard on water stunts and synchronized swimming before the production of "Fables From Under the Sea." The water ballet dealt with underwater life, featuring swimmers representing devilfish, sailfish, octopuses, starfish, and fiddler crabs. A candlelight finale concluded the show, with the members forming the pattern of a star.

The Modern Dance Club, under the guidance of President Sally Thomas, presented a dancing production this fall entitled "Dance Then and Now." The club offered its members an opportunity to study dance techniques and choreography, as well as giving them a chance for both recreation and expression.

The Pegasus Club, under the leadership of Kay Howard, met every Friday afternoon at the Pine Knoll Stables to improve their riding techniques. The Club also met once a month to discuss horsemanship. The girls rode for Duke in private shows, and some showed horses for other owners.

WOMEN'S I

Swimming meets, tennis tournaments, the volleyball tournament and basketball tournament were among the many sports activities included in woman's intramurals this year. The girls also participated in table tennis, softball, archery and bowling tournaments. Not only did the girls meet competition here at Duke, but they also met other schools in competition by attending "playdays." The newly organized tennis team for women met the University of North Carolina team in a match and planned to expand their
